JOSH RUSHING
WHAT’S WRONG WITH AMERICAN NEWS?
And Why It’s Your Fault!
Wednesday, November 30
Schofield Auditorium • 7:30 pm
Josh Rushing, an award-winning journalist and author, regularly blogs for AJE and The Huffington Post. Rushing is an award-winning journalist, author, blogger and leading voice in international affairs. A former U.S. Marine captain with 14 years of service, Rushing was a public affairs officer at Central Command in Qatar during Operation Iraqi Freedom. Before going to work for Al Jazeera’s new English-language news channel as a military and current affairs correspondent, he resigned from the military, and a year later he became a public affairs officer in the 2004 documentary, Control Room, and later co-wrote and narrated the Telly Award-winning film, Seek the Truth, Change the World. A former U.S. Marine captain with 14 years of service, Rushing was a public affairs officer at Central Command in Qatar during Operation Iraqi Freedom. Before going to work for Al Jazeera’s new English-language news channel as a military and current affairs correspondent, he resigned from the military, and a year later he became a public affairs officer in the 2004 documentary, Control Room, and later co-wrote and narrated the Telly Award-winning film, Seek the Truth, Change the World. Rushing’s book, The Brazils of the Americas: The Campus as a Global Cultural Center, and his forthcoming book, The Campus as a Global Cultural Center, will screen December 1–4 at Schofield Auditorium • 7:30 pm

V.S. RAMACHANDRAN
THE TELL-TALE BRAIN
A Neuroscientist’s Quest for What Makes Us Human
Wednesday, February 29
Schofield Auditorium • 7:30 pm
V.S. Ramachandran is a neuroscience professor whose work has been called revolutionary by many in the field. He is famous for his mind-bending experiments with people who have had their brains surgically altered. He has shown how these people can read Braille and other things that are seen only in the mind. Ramachandran wants to understand the nature of self and consciousness, and in The Tell-Tale Brain, he explores — and begins to answer — the most basic mystery of human uniqueness, in an attempt to shed light on the most complicated inner workings of the brain. His profoundly entertaining and illuminating book (2011), Ramachandran addresses the question, “What makes us human?”

DAVE ZIRIN
NOT JUST A GAME: The Political Education of Sports
Wednesday, March 28
Schofield Auditorium • 7:30 pm
Dave Zirin is an award-winning journalist, author, and the nation’s leading sports voice. Dave Zirin has been called the nation’s leading sports voice. If there was an award for Most Valuable Sportswriter, I would vote for Dave Zirin. (2010). Part of Howard Zinn’s People’s History Series for the New Press, the book forms the basis of a documentary co-written and narrated by Zirin called Sportswriter, I would vote for Dave Zirin. If there was an award for Most Valuable Sportswriter, I would vote for Dave Zirin. (2010). Part of Howard Zinn’s People’s History Series for the New Press, the book forms the basis of a documentary co-written and narrated by Zirin called

"The Official History of American Sports, from Colonial Molly Pitcher in 18th Century Revolutionary War battles to the present-day athletes who have forever changed the world, this is the ultimate history of American sports. Whether an avid sports fan, history buff, or cultural commentator, Sportswriter is a fascinating look at the history of American sports and a redefinition of the way we think about them."

If there is an award for Most Valuable Sportswriter, I would vote for Dave Zirin. (2010). Part of Howard Zinn’s People’s History Series for the New Press, the book forms the basis of a documentary co-written and narrated by Zirin called Wisconsin-Eau Claire is Wisconsin's most beautiful campus. Since 1942, it is said that the University of greatest minds contributes to this beauty and imaginations. The Forum lecture series has written many publications on the integration of sustainability into education. Dr. Debra Rowe is a keynote speaker at education conferences and has funds from the U.S. Department of Energy and sustainability related courses and degrees with psychology for 30 years, Rowe has created online management, renewable energy technology and community partnerships. A professor of energy investments, facilities and operations, and sustainability into mission, curricula, professional education associations and institutions integrate initiative sustainability projects. She helps higher education, government and faith sectors to join the newly formed White House Council for Social Change. In December, President Obama asked Strickland on the board of the National Endowment for the Arts. His 2007 book, Make the Impossible Possible, was spread widely recognized in the music world and was supported by bands including Switchfoot, Anberlin, Tenth Avenue North, and others. Tworkowski began in 2006, as a simple attempt to tell the story of a friend in need of treatment, and soon became a blog on MySpace and began selling t-shirts. To fund his friend’s treatment, Tworkowski posted an Internet phenomenon and global movement. TWLOHA now has the largest online audience of any nonprofit from venue to venue all over the world. TWLOHA widely recognized in the music world and was spread from depression, addiction, self-injury and suicidal tendencies find hope, support and love. TWLOHA of thousands of adults and teens through his arts outreach and community in a way that is dynamic, conversational, talking about the importance of honesty and ultimately hopeful, Tworkowski shares his community Solutions. to join the newly formed White House Council for Social Change.