The first of three recent commissions includes illustrations for Cobblestone Magazine to accompany an article on Stand Watie and Native American participation in the U.S. Civil War. The second, a picture book released by St. Vladimir’s Press, tells the story of a woman raising wheat and producing bread in America’s heartland. Finally, Time to Pray, an upcoming book by Boyds Mills Press, relates the story of an American Muslim girl learning Muslim traditions while visiting her grandmother in the Middle East. These works were executed in ink and acrylic paints.

Ned Gannon
Assistant Professor,
Department of Art and Design

Chasing the Red Fox
Cobblestone, 2009

The Woman and the Wheat
St. Vladimir’s Seminar Press, 2009

Time to Pray
Boyds Mills Press, 2010