Are you looking for opportunities to maximize your leadership potential?

Consider becoming a Leadership Fellow for the 2017-2018 academic year!

Who are the Leadership Fellows?
The Leadership Fellows are a group of eight individuals who make up a leadership cohort. The Leadership Fellows cohort was created by the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs in 2009 and is supported by Academic Affairs and Student Affairs. The mission of the cohort is to represent UW-Eau Claire in a variety of aspects and take the lead on developing and coordinating a campus-wide leadership project.

In addition to the larger, campus-wide project, Fellows have the unique opportunity to select a personal project. This project is a great opportunity to delve into an area of interest and hone key leadership skills.

Professional Development and Leadership Opportunities
The Fellows not only work within their cohort, but are also assigned a mentor from campus. The mentor serves the fellow by providing insight, professional wisdom and advice regarding leadership skills.

Leadership Fellow has so much purpose and is a great program! I would recommend it because I believe in life-long learning. The biggest take away was the relationships. It allowed me connections that I wouldn’t have made had I sat in my office. We work at a higher education institution and we should model what we do to our own students! - Kristin Schumacher

My experience with the Leadership Fellow was simply impressive. I was provided with a grand opportunity to get to know colleagues [AND] garner support for professional development ideas I had stirring. —Nicole Schultz

“The Leadership Fellows program has benefited the university by providing opportunities for participants representing many departments and units on campus. I’ve loved getting to work with the fellows.” —Beth Hellwig, Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs
