Department of Music and Theater Arts, Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, & Institute for Health Sciences
Invites You to a Celebration of “World Voice Day”

Friday, 8 May 2015
Haas Fine Arts Center, Room 143
1:00 – 4:00 p.m.

• 1:00 – 1:20 p.m. Introduction & Vocal Performance I
• 1:20 – 2:20 p.m. Keynote Presentation / Q & A
• 2:20 – 3:00 p.m. Vocal Performance II / Patient Narrative
• 3:00 – 4:00 p.m. Posters, Refreshments & Discourse

The celebration will feature a keynote address by Dr. Rima DeFatta, scholarly presentations by students in the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, and vocal performances by students in the Department of Music and Theater Arts. Please come and join the festivities.

Rima DeFatta, M.D. is an ear, nose, and throat surgeon with fellowship training in the professional voice. She practices in Altoona and multiple additional locations in the Chippewa Valley.