

Midwest Regional Conference Highlights

Who is invited? Undergraduate and graduate students of English in the Midwestern Region. English majors at UWEC are invited to share in the celebration of English language and literature. You do not have to submit a paper in order to attend the conference, but we do invite submissions (see separate page).

On Thursday, October 19, we will have some social activities, but the official conference events are scheduled for Friday, October 20, and Saturday, October 21.

Planned events include poetry readings, guest poets and authors, films, music, and academic papers. In addition, there will be numerous social activities including the option of attending events of the Chippewa Valley Book Festival which will be taking place at the same time. We will have a formal banquet on Friday evening with August Rubrecht.

Please consider submitting a paper to the convention. This is an excellent opportunity for you to share your paper with an audience that spans the Midwestern Region.

Visit the Theta Zeta Chapter website at <http://www.uwec.edu/sigtaude> or check the national website's bulletin board under the Midwest Region for the most current information.

Remember UWEC students who want to present at the conference but not attend the banquet can waive the $10 fee. Everyone is welcome to attend presentations whether you are registered or not.

The registration form is below. Please include all of the information as well as a check. Registration deadline is October 1, 2006.

Visit the beautiful University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire Campus and enjoy a walk across the river or a discussion on popular texts.
