Curious about extramural funding, but not sure where to start your search? In this session, you will learn about basic resources for identifying public and private sponsors who might fund your teaching, research, and scholarly projects. A selection of grant and fellowship programs will also be profiled.