Undergraduate Student Code of Conduct: I.N.T.E.G.R.I.T.Y.

As undergraduate students in the College of Business at UW-Eau Claire, we want to be role models of ethical behavior. We want to be known not only for our academic excellence but also for our I.N.T.E.G.R.I.T.Y.:

We will...

Individual responsibility

- Do the right thing and lead others to do the right thing.
- Do our own work, and give credit to others for the work they do.
- Keep commitments we make to our instructors and fellow students.

Network professionally

- Behave with integrity when engaged in any university-related business with outside entities, such as internships, class projects, or community service activities.
- Remember that when in the community, our actions as individuals reflect on the College of Business as a whole.
- Represent ourselves and our accomplishments accurately and honestly.

Thoughtful actions

- Learn how to make ethical decisions rather than simply reacting.
- Take responsibility to understand and clarify expectations with instructors and fellow students as needed.

Ethical behavior

- Follow the UW System Student Administrative Code, presenting any objections promptly, openly, and honestly.
- Compete in good faith, seeking advantage fairly.
- Use technology legally and responsibly.

Give more

- Give our time and effort to improving our school, community, and world.
- Always strive to act in a socially responsible way.

Respect others

- Be considerate of others, professionally and personally.
- Respect the environment of learning in the classrooms and encourage others to do the same.
- Promote the academic environment as a safe and ethical place for learning.

Involvement

- Be involved in the university through student groups, activities, class work, service learning, and through additional community activities.
• Be actively engaged in discussions, share ideas, and work closely with our peers, mentors, and community advisors.
• Represent ourselves the university in a positive light and govern our actions with integrity.

Teamwork

• Be considerate of team members.
• Carry out our fair share of team responsibilities.
• Communicate in a positive and consistent manner.

You

• Carry the principles of this code forward throughout our education and into our professional lives.
• Encourage everyone—including YOU—to inspire others to act with integrity as well.

This code has been reviewed and approved by the UW-Eau Claire Office of the Dean of Students. We cannot pre-identify all situations that might be a violation of a code of conduct, but that does not mean that we cannot enforce appropriate policies. Remember, you have rights and responsibilities and these are outlined in the Student Services and Standards Handbook Administrative Code. There are several groups who enforce this code, including the faculty and administrators of the College of Business, Office of the Dean of Students, the Office of the Chancellor, and even UW-Eau Claire or City of Eau Claire police if needed. We work with them to ensure that everyone is treated fairly and equitably.
