The Management major at UW-Eau Claire provides students with a broad skill set that is useful in a wide array of possible careers. The program emphasizes communication, teamwork, critical thinking and analytic abilities.

Majors

Comprehensive majors (no minor required)
- Management - Entrepreneurship
- Management - General Management
- Management - Human Resource Management
- Management - Operations/Supply Chain Management

Prepared for Success

Management majors complete certification exams as part of their degree requirements, which makes them more competitive in the job market. Human Resource students and Operations/Material Management majors must take and pass one professional certification examination (SHRM or APICS) prior to graduation. (Our students’ pass rate of the SHRM exam is higher than the national average.) Few if any campuses have this as a requirement or prepare students to take these exams, setting UW-Eau Claire ahead of the rest.

You can expect innovative faculty and classes at UW-Eau Claire. In a class required for all College of Business majors, students compete in a management strategy simulation known as the "Sim Super Bowl." This class is taught by management faculty and is not replicated at any other university. Another class allows students to earn service-learning credit while taking on a civic project, and in another, students provide business consulting services to actual Chippewa Valley small businesses.

Typical positions held by our graduates include retail manager, job or inventory analyst, purchasing agent, labor relations specialist, employee benefits and compensations specialist, operations manager, entrepreneur/business owner, and human resources officer.
