How to Get Involved
There are many different committees which promote ongoing education and a positive professional environment for all university staff. They support professional development activities and encourage informed communication among the university staff, and with the university and local community. If you are a UW-Eau Claire University Staff person interested in becoming a member of any of committees, please contact any member of the University Staff Council. All committees are listed on the Council's website:

Event Donations

The University Staff classification at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire is comprised of a wide range of positions including but not limited to custodians, facilities and grounds workers, academic department and program associates, financial specialists, and so on. They hold very important roles on this campus, and the Professional Development Conference is an opportunity to give back to these employees in key ways: free educational workshops, networking opportunities in a digital world, and incentives/door prizes.

The University Staff Professional Development Committee reaches out to local area businesses each year to develop a partnership. Businesses will donate a small or large prize for giveaways, and the Committee helps promote them for name recognition and potential new customers. Below are businesses that have donated to the 2021 Professional Development Conference.
