Bridging the Gap from Rehab to Performance

America is one of the pioneers of sports medicine and athletic training in the world. Sports medicine personnel around the world can benefit from the resources published in English if the language and cultural barriers can be overcome. To bridge this gap, Ya-Ting Chang, an athletic trainer at National Taiwan Normal University, and I dedicated significant time in textbook translation last year- Bridging the Gap from Rehab to Performance, written by Sue Falsone- from English to Chinese. The book was published in April 2020 in Taiwan and sold worldwide.
