Rare Book Collection

Rare books are distinguished from old books by their edition and their intrinsic artistic or artifactual value. There are approximately 2,700 volumes in the UWEC collection. Collection strengths include American and British literary first editions and finely illustrated books from circa 1850-1950.

Local History Collection

The Local History Collection consists of published materials of interest to local and regional historians and genealogical researchers. The collection includes county and community histories, city directories, genealogy reference books, Wisconsin agricultural monographs (1870s-1920s), WPA inventories of the county archives of Wisconsin, a portion of the Draper papers microfilm, and the Wisconsin Historical Collections (published volumes of Wisconsin Historical Society manuscripts).

Research Strategy

Consult with Special Collections staff to choose, refine, and focus your research topic. We are here to help. Do not hesitate to ask questions.

Search the online library catalog by keyword or subject headings in your topic area to determine our local holdings of both primary and secondary sources. The library catalog includes not only the holdings of the Wisconsin Historical Society in Madison, including the State Archives, but also the holdings of the 13 other Area Research Centers. Work with Special Collections staff to select collections or parts of collections for transfer via courier service to the Eau Claire ARC for your use at no charge. Deliveries are received Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays.

Many archives and museums today are making items from their collections available on the Internet by scanning documents and photographs, creating full-text versions of documents, and streaming audio and video files. If assistance is needed, contact Special Collections and Archives and we can try to direct you to the preferred resources.
