Accepted Works

Notification of accepted works will be sent out via email Wed, March 9.

If your work is selected, deliver display-ready artwork to the Foster Gallery on March 28-29 (10-4:30). An entry card must be attached to each entry; cards will be available in the gallery at the time of delivery.

- Three-dimensional work must be accompanied by clear instructions for display.
- Two-dimensional work must be presentation-ready (framed, backed, and covered with plexi or glass) for installation. Wire hangers, D rings or sawtooth hangers are acceptable and should be attached directly to the frame, not to the cardboard or Masonite backing of the frame. Artwork with no means of hanging or not presentation ready will not be accepted.
- Video or time-based work must be able to play on gallery equipment. The Gallery reserves the right to consolidate multiple accepted entries/artists on one monitor or projector as needed. The gallery may request a file for your video instead of a link
- Alternate methods for displaying complicated or oversized works must be discussed with the Gallery Director, Amanda Bulger, by Friday, March 18. The gallery may request a student to assist with installation of complicated or oversized works. The Director will try to accommodate installation instructions but reserves the right to display artwork in a manner they deem fit.
- Unsure what "presentation ready" means? Ask Amanda Bulger or an Art & Design faculty member. We are all here to help guide you through this learning experience.

NOTE: Regardless of the acceptance status of your work, please attend the reception. This event includes presenting juror's awards and Art & Design scholarships.
