Political Science and Criminal Justice

Hibbard Humanities Hall 401

715-836-5744

Department Website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-arts-sciences/departments-programs/political-science/>)

Political Science examines various systems of government within and among nation-states and the principles on which they are based. It familiarizes the student with political concepts and issues, their historical backgrounds, and their relevance to the cultural systems in which they arise. The study of political science provides methods for analyzing political issues and the policies designed to address them.

The multidisciplinary criminal justice curriculum is designed to familiarize the student with the complex nature of the American criminal justice system. The study of criminal justice focuses upon the structure and functions of law enforcement, the courts, and corrections. Included is the analysis of the political, social, cultural, philosophical, and psychological forces that shape the policies, programs, and practices in the system. The liberal arts orientation of the program prepares the student for graduate-level work in criminal justice, law, and for careers at the local, state, and federal levels in law enforcement, corrections, and court related agencies.

Honor Societies and Student Organizations:

Pi Sigma Alpha, the national honor society, promotes student interest in political science and sponsors forums on current political topics and workshops on applying to and attending graduate school and law school. The honor society accepts qualified students each fall and spring semester for membership, based on political science coursework and academic standing. Contact the faculty adviser in the department for further details.

Model United Nations Club (MUNC) is a student organization whose primary purpose is to educate its members and the student body about the United Nations and its activities. The organization is open to all students interested in global affairs and the UN. MUNC members attend two United Nations mock conferences each year and participate in a number of other group activities.

Pre-Law Club is a student organization whose primary purpose is to inform its members of the various aspects of the legal profession. The organization is open to all students from various academic majors who are considering attending law school and share an interest in the legal profession. The organization sponsors speakers from various law-related occupations, organizes trips to law schools and law school fairs, and provides practice tests for the Law School Admission Test.

The Society of Politics is open to all students with an interest in politics and political science. The Society functions as both a social and professional organization for students to help them make connections and broaden the scope of their political knowledge. The Society hosts several events during the year, including a fall picnic, roundtables, and forums for the students and political science faculty to meet and discuss important issues.

Mock Trial Team is an academic competition in which teams prepare both sides of a hypothetical legal case to present to a panel of judges. This academic competition builds one's logical reasoning, analytical reasoning, and persuasive oratory skills. Mock Trial is an excellent educational experience for students who plan to attend law school, work in law enforcement, or be an expert witness in court, as well as those who want to learn more about how the judicial system operates.

The Criminal Justice Association at UWEC is a student-run organization designed for any student with an interest in criminal justice. Through this organization you'll be able to interact with other students who have similar interests to you. You'll also have the opportunity to further your knowledge in criminal justice through various outlets, such as volunteer work, student research and networking with professional speakers from a multitude of backgrounds like Law Enforcement, Corrections, and the Courts System.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Criminal Justice, Comprehensive Major, B.A.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

Students in this major have the option to pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The degrees are distinguished by second language competency for the B.A. and a higher level of mathematics competency for the B.S.

Majors who are interested in going into law enforcement should consider this option. You must speak with the CRMJ Program Coordinator prior to pursuing this option (Dr. Jason Spraitz – spraitjd@uwec.edu). There are limited seats in the CVTC academy and acceptance is highly competitive and not guaranteed.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad, Intercultural Immersion, Internship, and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

CRMJ 498 – Criminal Justice Internship: Completion of an internship is not required, but many students choose to do one. Students must be declared CRMJ majors and be juniors with approximately 30 credits applied to the major. Department consent is required and placement may be competitive.

Student-Faculty Collaborative Research: Criminal Justice faculty have active research agendas and often include students on their projects. If interested in learning more, speak with your Criminal Justice professors. It’s recommended that you complete CRMJ 103 and CRMJ 280 before participating in research, but not required.

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

Students in this major have the option to pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The degrees are distinguished by second language competency for the B.A. and a higher level of mathematics competency for the B.S.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad, Intercultural Immersi (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services/internship/job-searching-and>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

The Political Science and Criminal Justice Department encourages our majors to consider all of the available High Impact Practices. The most common ones among our majors are internships, study abroad programs, and collaborative research opportunities.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering

UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services/internship/job-searching-and/>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research/>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

The Political Science and Criminal Justice Department encourages our majors to consider all of the available High Impact Practices. The most common ones among our majors are internships, study abroad programs, and collaborative research opportunities.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

Department Website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-arts-sciences/departments-programs/psychology/>)

Psychology is the scientific investigation of mental processes (thinking, remembering, feeling, etc.) and behavior. Psychology lies in the center of the academic pursuits of the university because of its strong connections with other scholarly areas. Psychology is not only an academic discipline, but also a profession. There are both academic psychologists, who engage in teaching and research, and practicing psychologists, who apply psychological knowledge in clinics, businesses, and other settings.

The Psychology Department has adopted the American Psychological Association (2013) learning goals for the major and minor.

Goal 1: Knowledge Base in Psychology

Goal 2: Scientific Inquiry and Critical Thinking

Goal 3: Ethical and Social Responsibility in a Diverse World

Goal 4: Communication

Goal 5: Professional Development

Credit for PSYC 100, PSYC 230, and PSYC 260 can be awarded through CLEP examinations. Credit for PSYC 100 and Statistics (MATH 246/PSYC 265) can be awarded through AP examinations.

College Degree RequirementsBachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); second language competency at the 102 level. Second language competency may be met in one of two ways: (1) Demonstrate a level of second language competency that qualifies the student to enter the 201-level course in a second language. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in a 102-level second language course (or AIS 112 or AIS 122 or SLHS 103).

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); mathematics competency at the MATH 111, MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways:

- (1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 114.
- (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services/internship/job-searching-and/>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research/>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

- Internships: Students will complete a 9-credit Internship and will speak with a behavior analytic faculty member to identify the internship experience that best matches the student's interests. PSYC 480 (Internship in Behavior Analysis) credits will be arranged with the assistance of the supervising faculty member. Students complete the Internship over two or three semesters, enrolling in no more than 6-credits of Internship per semester. Completing PSYC 390 with a B or above is a prerequisite to Internship enrollment.
- Research: Students are encouraged to explore collaborative research experiences with Psychology faculty. PSYC 396 (Research Apprentice in Psychology) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Student Academic Apprenticeships: Students have the option of serving as a Student Academic Apprentice for a course which they have previously completed and typically earned an A or better in. PSYC 397 (Student Academic Apprentice) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Study Abroad and/or Immersion: Psychology majors may consider a Study Abroad or National Student Exchange experience (for 1-2 semesters), and/or shorter Immersion Trips. It is recommended that Psychology majors who plan to Study Abroad for an entire semester or more do so in their second year, though Study Abroad is still possible after the second year.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services/internship/job-searching-and>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

- Internships: Students will complete a 9-credit Internship and will speak with a behavior analytic faculty member to identify the internship experience that best matches the student’s interests. PSYC 480 (Internship in Behavior Analysis) credits will be arranged with the assistance of the supervising faculty member. Students complete the Internship over two or three semesters, enrolling in no more than 6-credits of Internship per semester. Completing PSYC 390 with a B or above is a prerequisite to Internship enrollment.
- Research: Students are encouraged to explore collaborative research experiences with Psychology faculty. PSYC 396 (Research Apprentice in Psychology) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Student Academic Apprenticeships: Students have the option of serving as a Student Academic Apprentice for a course which they have previously completed and typically earned an A or better in. PSYC 397 (Student Academic Apprentice) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Study Abroad and/or Immersion: Psychology majors may consider a Study Abroad or National Student Exchange experience (for 1-2 semesters), and/or shorter Immersion Trips. It is recommended that Psychology majors who plan to Study Abroad for an entire semester or more do so in their second year, though Study Abroad is still possible after the second year.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); mathematics competency at the MATH 111, MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways: (1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 114. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services/internship/job-searching-and/>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research/>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

- Internships: Students are encouraged to speak with an advisor to identify an internship experience that matches the student's interests. PSYC 498 (Internship in Psychology) credits can be arranged with the assistance of a faculty member.
- Research: Students are encouraged to explore collaborative research experiences with Psychology faculty. PSYC 396 (Research Apprentice in Psychology) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Student Academic Apprenticeships: Students have the option of serving as a Student Academic Apprentice for a course which they have previously completed and typically earned a B or better in. PSYC 397 (Student Academic Apprentice) credits can be earned for this experience.
- Study Abroad and/or Immersion: Psychology majors may consider a Study Abroad or National Student Exchange experience (for 1-2 semesters), and/or shorter Immersion Trips. It is recommended that Psychology majors who plan to Study Abroad for an entire semester or more do so in their second year, though Study Abroad is still possible after the second year. See Your Major + Study Abroad (https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/?FuseAction=Abroad.ViewLink&Parent_ID=95F842BE-5056-B565-C4F8B52A589A0A9D&Link_ID=62E08FAA-A555-5AF9-7AA625856C21266F) for listings of psychology courses offered abroad.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Science in Environmental Public Health

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Science in Environmental Public Health Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.E.P.H.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work).

Major Requirements

(Code 640-001)

Advisors: J. Boulter, C. Pierce, L. Suppes.

Practitioners in the field of environmental public health control environmental health hazards and preserve and improve environmental factors for the achievement of optimum health, safety, comfort, and well-being. Students gain the educational background necessary to appreciate cultural values and protect air, water, soil and food resources.

Graduates are employed in regulatory agencies and industries concerned with environmental quality and the public's health. This comprehensive major includes both foundation classes in biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics, and specialized courses in environmental and public health, such as food and water sanitation, air pollution, industrial hygiene, vector-borne disease control, and environmental toxicology.

The Environmental Public Health (ENPH) major provides undergraduate students with a comprehensive understanding of science and its application to protect human environmental health. The degree prepares students for careers as Environmental Health Professionals and safety specialists, integrating a scientific background, technical skills, and professional ethics.

Scholarships

Ten scholarships are available to students in the ENPH major. Additional information may be obtained from the faculty or by visiting the Financial Aid Website. Students are invited to participate in the Student National Environmental Health Association, the goal of which is to improve the health and well-being of people by focusing on environmental public health issues and introducing students to professional organizations.

Internships

The ENPH major provides students with an innovative, full-time, paid summer internship experience typically with an off-campus health-related agency or industry. The internship is typically completed during the summer months between the junior and senior year.

Accreditation

The B.S.E.P.H. degree is accredited by the National Environmental Health Science and Protection Accreditation Council. Graduates are prepared to take the National Environmental Health Association exam for the Registered Environmental Health Specialist/Registered Sanitarian credential.

Environmental Public Health, Comprehensive Major, B.S.E.P.H.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering

UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad, Intercultural Immersion, Internship, and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

Required: Students in the Environmental Public Health Major will complete a summer practicum experience that involves working with an agency or company in the field of environmental public health. Students will also have opportunities to engage in faculty-student research in several areas of environmental public health.

Environmental Studies, Minor

Liberal Arts (Code 489-402)

Advisors: J. Boulter (Public Health and Environmental Studies), J. Phillips (Public Health and Environmental Studies), C. Pierce (Public Health and Environmental Studies).

The Environmental Studies minor is designed to equip students with a multi-disciplinary skill set that enables them to investigate the human and ecological dimensions of environmental issues including climate change, air and water pollution, and biodiversity loss, as well as environmental justice, urbanization, food systems, and infectious disease outbreaks. Students in the program have the opportunity to integrate what they have learned across a wide range of disciplines, including economics, environmental science, ethics, ethnic and gender studies, geography, history, policy, public health, and sociology. Concepts and tools from these disciplines empower students to address environmental challenges at local-to-global scales. The minor is open to all students and is designed to be flexible so that students can tailor their courses to meet their particular needs and interests. Above all else, the Environmental Studies minor challenges students to think critically and holistically to understand the human and natural dynamics of environmental issues.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways:

(1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 114. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

Major Requirements

Liberal Arts (Code 488-201)

Advisors: J. Boulter (Public Health and Environmental Studies), A. Craker (Public Health and Environmental Studies), C. Pierce (Public Health and Environmental Studies), B. Rockler (Public Health and Environmental Studies), L. Suppes (Public Health and Environmental Studies).

Public health is an interdisciplinary field that takes a population-based approach to improving the health and well-being of people and communities. Core courses will provide a broad overview of the U.S. healthcare system and a basic understanding of the five fundamental areas of public health knowledge. The electives will allow students to acquire knowledge and skills across a variety of domains that reflect their academic and professional interests, areas such as administration/policy, biomedical and health sciences, communications, healthy and sustainable communities, quantitative and qualitative research methods, and social sciences and humanities. The capstone or culminating experience will have students demonstrate and apply their knowledge and skills to a public health issue of interest to them. This may be achieved through senior seminars, portfolio projects or research papers, or in collaboration with stakeholders from governmental, non-governmental, and/or private organizations through community-engaged service or research.

The innovative array of courses and learning experiences in public health prepares students for a breadth of entry-level high-demand careers in health care organizations, government, non-profit organizations, and the private sector. The major provides a strong foundation for those who want to pursue graduate school in public health and related fields, and is well suited to those interested in a health professions career such as chiropractic care, dentistry, medicine, occupational therapy, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, and veterinary medicine.

Public Health, Major, B.A. or B.S.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

Students in this major have the option to pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The degrees are distinguished by second language competency for the B.A. and a higher level of mathematics competency for the B.S.

Public Health, Minor

Liberal Arts (Code 488-401)

Advisors: A. Craker (Public Health and Environmental Studies), C. Pierce (Public Health and Environmental Studies), B. Rockler (Public Health and Environmental Studies), L. Suppes (Public Health and Environmental Studies).

Public health is an interdisciplinary field that takes a population-based approach to improving the health and well-being of people and communities by preventing disease, disability and death across populations. This field draws on the natural, quantitative, social, and behavioral sciences to study the distribution and determinants of human health and disease, and to develop interventions to preserve and promote health and well-being.

Because public health is such a broad interdisciplinary field it has wide appeal and utility. The public health minor is a natural complement to any of the health profession majors (athletic training, behavior analysis, communication sciences and disorders, environmental public health, health care administration, kinesiology, nursing, and social work). The minor augments the pre-professional curriculum of students preparing for post-baccalaureate health professions programs in chiropractic care, dentistry, medicine, occupational therapy, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, and veterinary medicine. In addition, the public health minor benefits those wishing to incorporate a better understanding of health in their chosen field, including majors not thought of as traditional health sciences. These majors include, but are not limited to, communication, economics, geography, journalism, management, mathematics (statistics and actuarial sciences), philosophy, political science, psychology, religious studies, and sociology.

The required core courses will expose students to the essential elements of public health. The elective courses will allow students either to align their public health minor to their major or to explore and investigate potential new areas of interest within public health.

Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies

Hibbard Humanities Hall 384
715-836-5717
Department Website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-arts-and-sciences/departments-programs/race-ethnicity-gender-and-sexuality>)

The Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies department coordinates teaching, research, and scholarship in the field of Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. It is a mature academic field of inquiry that also draws from many other fields of study. Enacted as a discipline, the Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies department is a site of both scholarly inquiry and social change and activism. A unique academic department, Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies incorporates praxis—practice that is informed by feminist theory and gendered analyses. Courses in Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies are taught with feminist pedagogical techniques and from feminist theoretical perspectives, and they integrate theory with activism whenever possible.

Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies students learn to think critically about the intersections of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, age, ability, and nationality as they interact with systems of power. Students also learn to make important connections between their learning, their own lives, and the globally interconnected world. As engaged citizens, Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies students advocate for gender and other forms of social justice both on campus and in the larger community.

All majors participate in a final capstone experience by taking WGSS 498 which is offered during the Spring semester. Students work closely with a community partner to develop and implement a plan of action or research. There are also other internship and volunteer opportunities for Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies students on campus (e.g. Gender and Sexuality Resource Center, Center for Awareness of Sexual Assault, Avin Center) and in the local community (such as the Black and Brown Womyn Power Coalition, the Chippewa Valley LGBTQ+ Community Center, Family Support Center, Hmong Mutual Assistance Association, The Community Table, and Western Dairyland). In addition, Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies offers several courses conducted as domestic and international cultural immersion experiences.

The interdisciplinary and critical perspectives learned in the department enrich all fields of study, so graduates are well-prepared to do work in a variety of fields. Upon graduating, Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies majors pursue a range of careers in business, health care, community education, and in both the private sector and non-profit organizations. They are also well prepared for graduate studies in Race, Ethnicity, Gender, and Sexuality Studies and other fields.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

College Credits. Earn at least 90 credits in courses offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

Bachelor of Arts Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.A.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); second language competency at the 102 level. Second language competency may be met in one of two ways: (1) Demonstrate a level of second language competency that qualifies the student to enter the 201-level course in a second language. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in a 102-level second language course (or AIS 112 or AIS 122 or SLHS 103).

Bachelor of Science Degree in the College of Arts and Sciences (B.S.)

Fulfillment of all University Graduation Requirements (which includes the Core General Education Requirements); all College-level degree requirements (major and minor/certificate emphases, GPAs, earning at least 90 credits in Arts and Sciences course work); mathematics competency at the MATH 111, MATH 112 or MATH 113 level. Mathematics competency can be met in one of three ways:

(1) Achieve a score on the mathematics placement test that qualifies the student to enter MATH 114. (2) Earn a grade of at least C (not C-) or a mark of S in MATH 111, MATH 112, or MATH 113. (3) Achieve a satisfactory score on the MATH 112 competency test. This test may be attempted no more than two times.

Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, Major, B.A.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

Students in this major have the option to pursue either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree. The degrees are distinguished by second language competency for the B.A. and a higher level of mathematics competency for the B.S.

College Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science Degree (B.A./B.S.)

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences must earn minimum resident and total GPAs of 2.00 in the major, the minor, and the certificate. The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the minor and the certificate are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. A standard major (a minimum of 36 credits) must be supplemented by a minor (a minimum of 24 credits) or by a certificate (12 to 18 credits) to meet graduation requirements for completing a first and second degree program. No minor or certificate is required with a Comprehensive Major (60 or more credits) or with two majors of 36 or more credits each.

Certain degree programs, which include Comprehensive Majors, may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Acceptable academic program combinations are determined at the college level. A major and a minor or a major and certificate or two majors (if available) may not be elected in the same department or program, except in the approved combinations listed here.

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree

College of Business Vision and Mission

Our Vision

To be a leading regional College of Business recognized for our innovative teaching, distinctive academic programs, and value-added educational experiences.

Our Mission

“The College of Business prepares students for success”

If you complete a College of Business degree program, you are preparing yourself to achieve success, whether your next step is employment in your chosen field, graduate study, not-for-profit work, a new career, or a new direction for your current career. Our faculty deliver undergraduate and graduate programs designed to provide you with the knowledge and skills needed to achieve success throughout your career and life.

Undergraduate Learning Goals, General Education, and Majors

The College of Business knows that oral and written communication skills and problem-solving skills are important to your success. Therefore, the College of Business designed its curriculum to provide you with repeated exposure to and mastery of these skills across all disciplines. The College of Business curriculum also builds on and enhances the campus general education core curriculum—further enhancing your ability to think critically and creatively. You will gain a broad-based exposure to the functional areas of business through the Business Core (BUSCORE). Then you can dive deeper into and gain a depth of study through the various majors associated with specific business functions. For those of you who know you want to major in business—or are exploring business, but are unsure which of our great majors to pursue—we have the structure you need in our "Pre-Business (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/business/pre-professional-programs/>)" curriculum.

Per the University's First Destination Report, (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/advising-retention-career-center/career-services>) 100% of College of Business students are either employed in their discipline or continuing their education after graduation. Most College of Business students secure their first career-related job before graduation, highlighting the effectiveness of integrating the college's learning goals with general education and discipline-specific coursework.

Once students are admitted to the University through its selective process, they may enter the College of Business directly—no extra application is needed.

Dean's List

At the end of each semester the University recognizes excellence in scholastic achievement by publishing the Dean's List. Admitted undergraduate students are eligible if they meet the following criteria for the semester:

- earn a minimum of 12 credits.
- be in good academic standing.
- earn a minimum semester GPA of 3.70.
- have no courses with the following grades: Incomplete, Withdrawal, Audit, or Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (except in courses that are offered only on the S/U grading system in which a grade of S has been earned).
- have no courses below the 100 level.
- have no repeats.
- not enrolled in a professional education semester course: ES 440, ES 441, ES 471; SEIP 470, SEIP 472, SEIP 475.

Dean's List students will receive notification and congratulations from the Dean.

Experience-Based Learning

As a College of Business student, you will broaden your education and gain additional skills and competencies through participating in learning experiences outside of the traditional classroom. The College of Business encourages you to participate in one or more of the following experience-based learning opportunities.

College of Business Internships

All College of Business undergraduate students are encouraged to participate in an internship during their course of studies (see the internship information on each department's webpage for more information). College-approved internships may be taken for credit or as a transcribed, non-credit activity. Credit internships generally involve a greater degree of faculty/staff oversight and/or peer interaction during the internship experience. This may take the form of internship site visits, online internship class discussions, faculty feedback on student journals, etc. Most of our College of Business students launch their first career from their internship.

General Internship Requirements

To be approved as a for-credit or transcribed, non-credit internship in the College of Business, the following minimum criteria must be satisfied:

- Students are expected to have relevant work assignments that provide value to the hosting organization, while engaged in college-level learning experiences. Most internship positions satisfying this requirement are paid positions. Department of Labor guidelines determine whether an intern should be treated as an employee under the Fair Labor Standards Act.
- Accordingly, and in compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act, internships at "for profit" private sector organizations must offer at least the minimum wage and overtime compensation for hours worked over 40 in a workweek. Employers must communicate to the student whether the internship is paid or unpaid. Department of Labor interpretation of FLSA currently permits unpaid internships in public sector and non-profit charitable organizations where the intern volunteers without expectation of compensation.
- The employer must designate and provide contact information for an internship supervisor. The supervisor will provide mentoring and guidance during the internship and will submit an evaluation of student performance at the end of the internship.
- A transcribed, non-credit internship must provide (at a minimum) hours worked satisfying the requirements for a one-credit internship.

Internship Procedures

You will want to contact the department office for your College of Business major for additional, department-specific requirements and procedures regarding internship credit and transcribing. Each department has one or more internship coordinators to guide you. Following is some general guidance:

- You are encouraged to utilize campus resources such as Career Services, fall and spring Career Conferences, student organizations, and other sources to secure internship employment opportunities.
- Your internship must be approved by the the internship coordinator or department chair prior to the work experience.
- If the internship is to be completed for university credit (see below), you must register for the appropriate internship course prior to the work experience.

Credit-Bearing Internships

Note: Credit internship registration is required for the internship to qualify as "Full Time Equivalent Enrollment Status."

You may earn university credit for your internship work; most programs include internship credit as part of the major's elective-credit requirement. The number of work hours required per credit earned will depend on department policy and the nature of the internship. Additionally, each department or program may limit the number of internship credits that may be applied toward major, college, or university graduation requirements.

To learn more about the Business Internship Program, please contact your department chair in the College of Business or a Business Career Counselor, located in Vicki Lord Larson Hall 2100, 715-836-3487. Additional information is available on each department's website, accessible via the College of Business (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business>) website.

International Education

The College of Business faculty strongly encourage all business students to study abroad and/or complete an international internship. In today's business world there are no longer hundreds of isolated markets but rather many very interconnected markets within a global economy. Chances are high that you will end up in a career which will require knowledge and skills needed for operating effectively in the international markets. Employers are looking for individuals who demonstrate self-confidence, independence, global awareness, and knowledge of a multicultural world. To help you gain these skills and competencies, the University provides many opportunities for you to study outside of the United States. Additionally, since the College and the University want you to graduate on time, the College and the University have worked hard to find ways to have courses taken abroad or away contribute to the General Education, 120-credit-graduation, or program requirements. Prior to departing, you will want to work with your advisor to select courses that transfer back. Your sample degree plan for your program includes study abroad institutions that are aligned with your program of study. Additional information about study abroad programs is available on the Center for International Education (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/explore-opportunities/study-abroad/cie/>) website.

Faculty/Student Collaborative Research

UW-Eau Claire is nationally recognized for its undergraduate research. Even as a first-year student, you can work with a faculty member on an academic research project. Most students present their research at the University's Celebration of Excellence in Research and Creative Activity (CERCA) (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/cerca>) event. Some students also present at professional conferences and are listed as co-authors on research publications. You can also earn independent study credit for the experience. Completing undergraduate research is particularly beneficial for you, if you are considering graduate school. Additional information about faculty/student collaborative research experiences is available from the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs (<http://www.uwec.edu/ORSP/>).

Business Student Organizations

Looking for your people? Check out the student business organizations. You don't have to be a member to attend meetings as you explore the different student organizations. Members network with professionals, go on field trips to businesses, plan meetings, organize fund-raising events, participate in social events, attend regional and national conferences, and build lasting friendships with other business students. Additional information is available on the Student Organizations in Business (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-organizations/>) page of the College of Business website.

College of Business Scholarships

You very likely qualify for a scholarship. Check out the College of Business Scholarships (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/colleges/college-business/> college-business-scholarships) page on the College of Business website for an up-to-date listing of College of Business scholarships. Apply!

Special Course Options

Credit by Examination. Each department within the College of Business has established its own policy with respect to credit by examination. Contact the appropriate department chair for additional information.

Independent Study. Students who wish to undertake an independent study project must demonstrate academic capability and must secure, prior to registering, the consent of the chair of the department offering the independent study and the faculty member directing the study.

For further information, contact the appropriate College of Business department chair.

Pre-Professional Programs

Pre-Business

If you are exploring various business disciplines and want to get started on your degree, then the Pre-Business route is the path for you. The Pre-Business area of study is not a major. Rather, it comprises the proficiency competencies and most of the BUSCORE that all College of Business students take as part of their major. Through the BUSCORE, you are exposed to the different business disciplines of study and can then easily transition to and declare one of the majors in the College of Business. You have a faculty advisor in the Business Communications and Information Systems department to help guide you. Additionally, the faculty teaching in the BUSCORE are excited to tell you about their discipline.

Student Professional Development Program

Because all students pursuing a major in the College of Business are required to complete the Student Professional Development (SPDP) workshops (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/colleges/college-business/student-professional-development-program>), you will want to complete the SPDP workshops on the same timeline as students pursuing a major in the College of Business. The SPDP workshops are only open to College of Business students and are known for distinguishing College of Business students from other job applicants.

Accounting is the discipline centered on creating and delivering financial data concerning businesses, encompassing details on product costs, service expenses, and financial insights into governmental and not-for-profit entities. This information is indispensable for internal and external decision-makers and various stakeholders within organizations. The accounting program aims to equip students with a comprehensive understanding of accounting and business operations while fostering the development of communication, interpersonal, critical thinking, and analytical skills. These abilities are greatly appreciated by employers seeking proficient accountants. Career opportunities in accounting extend to public accounting, financial accounting, managerial accounting, internal auditing, tax accounting, governmental accounting, not-for-profit accounting, forensic accounting, cost accounting, and environmental accounting.

Finance is a vital field focusing on managing and optimizing monetary resources within businesses, encompassing activities such as budgeting, investing, and financial analysis. It plays a crucial role in providing insights into the allocation and utilization of funds, aiding both internal decision-making processes and external stakeholder evaluations. Finance programs are tailored to offer students a profound understanding of financial principles and practices, while building essential skills in communication, problem-solving, and data analysis. These competencies are highly sought after by organizations seeking adept financial professionals. Career paths in finance are diverse, including roles such as financial analysis, investment banking, corporate finance, risk management, portfolio management, financial planning, and wealth management, among others.

The Department of Accounting and Finance offers comprehensive majors in both Accounting and Finance. Minors in Accounting and Finance are also available.

Accounting, Comprehensive Major

(Code 720-006)

UWEC’s 120 credit Accounting major provides an all-inclusive program which will enable the graduate to pursue a career in the field of accounting, qualifying them for entry level accounting positions. Our majors are highly sought after by employers in the public, private and non-profit sectors with many of these employers’ offering internships that students can pursue while completing their degree. Over 90% of our graduates have taken advantage of at least one paid internship for credit as a part of their degree program. This 120-credit degree in Accounting from the University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire provides the background necessary for students to excel in the field of accounting and pursue licensure through examination as a Certified Public Accounting (CPA), a Certified Management Accounting Exam (CMA), and a Certified Internal Auditor (CIA).

CPA Licensure

Wisconsin offers three routes to CPA licensure. Students may sit for the CPA Exam after completing the accounting coursework in a 120#credit bachelor’s degree. To become licensed, candidates can either complete 150 total credits, earn a master’s degree, or use Wisconsin’s new option: a 120#credit bachelor’s degree plus two years of relevant experience. The extra 30 credits in the traditional path do not need to be in accounting and can include internships or coursework in areas like finance or information systems.

Our students are highly sought after by the big four public accounting firms, as well as national, regional and local CPA firms as well. These same firms offer a variety of well paid internships, including full time semester long internships (usually taken in the spring of your junior or senior year in the program). These internships typically result in a full-time job offer from the company and provide a great learning experience for those that choose this route. Some students choose to pursue a second major or a minor as a way of earning those extra credits. Students should work with their faculty advisors to determine the best course of study to reach their educational and career goals.

This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. B.B.A., Business Finance (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Business Communication and Information Systems

Schneider Social Science 404
715-836-4320

Business Communication and Information Systems Department (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/departments-programs/business-communication-and-information-systems>)

Business Communication

Business communication (BCOM) is the study of written, oral, visual, and technology-enabled communication in the workplace. It is a field of study in its own right, but it is also an important field of study for anyone in any business discipline. Students have two pathways for studying BCOM: the comprehensive business communication major (61 credits, no minor required) and the Advanced Business Communication certificate (12 credits). The Advanced Business Communication certificate is available for both online and on-campus students.

BCOM graduates are prepared for a variety of internships and career opportunities as an internal communication specialist, communications manager, writer, editor, social media specialist, and related jobs. BCOM students study a range of business communication topics, including writing common business documents, leading teams and facilitating their work, communicating visually, and using current technologies that enable a multimodal approach to effective communication in the workplace. In conjunction with other business courses in information systems, finance, economics, accounting, management, and marketing, the courses in the BCOM major position graduates well to be assets in a range of positions in many organizations.

Business Communication: Writing, Speaking, and Collaborating (BCOM 206) and Business Communication: Persuasive Messaging, Conversations, and Professional Development (BCOM 207) are part of the BUSCORE. Students must earn a C or above in BCOM 206/BCOM 207 to meet College of Business degree requirements. Students who do not earn at least a C in BCOM 206 must repeat the course until they earn a C or better. Students who do not earn at least a C in BCOM 207 must repeat the course until they earn a C or better.

Information Systems

Information systems (IS) is the study of the development, management, and application of computer information systems by businesses.

IS graduates have a wide variety of excellent career prospects. Systems/business/data analyst, web services developer, application software developer, project manager, digital network manager, risk assurance professional, and database administrator are just a few of the prestigious and well-paid positions available.

The IS program is housed in the College of Business, allowing IS graduates to obtain a broad background in business concepts. This background allows them to develop expertise in bridging the gap between business professionals and computer technologists. IS graduates develop important business knowledge and skills such as communication, teamwork, and problem solving, as well as technical knowledge and skills such as systems analysis and design, computer programming, database management, network management, and Web development.

Students can pursue one of four different IS programs: a comprehensive major (62 credits, no minor required), a minor (27 credits), the Information Systems certificate (12 credits) and the Business Analytics certificate (15 credits). The Business Analytics certificate is available to both online and on-campus students.

Business Administration

The standard major in business administration (BSAD) is offered through the Business Communication and Information Systems Department. Because it is a standard major, students earning the business administration major must also have a second major, minor, or certificate to earn their degree. The flexibility of the BSAD major makes it an excellent option for students in the College of Business who want to complement their business degree with any field of study outside the College of Business or with selected minors and certificates in the College of Business. Because only some minors and certificates offered within the College of Business satisfy university academic concentration requirements (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/graduation-requirements/#header16>) when paired with the business administration major, please see the list of approved double major and major/minor combinations (<http://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/business/#academicprogramstext>) in the College of Business for allowable combinations. The business administration major and minor are available both online and on campus.

Student Organizations

The department supports the Leadership & Technology student organization. Membership is open to all students interested in the study of information systems. The department also supports Collegiate DECA, which is open to any student on campus with an interest in developing their business knowledge and professional skills.

Scholarships

Refer to the College of Business website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/colleges/college-business/college-business-scholarships>) for an up-to-date listing of Business Communication and Information Systems scholarships, or contact the department chair, Schneider 400F.

Advanced Business Communication, Certificate

(Code 765-601)

The Advanced Business Communication Certificate is ideal for all students at UW-Eau Claire who want to develop the oral, written, and technology-mediated communication skills that today’s employers seek. Students write audience-focused business documents; develop oral communication skills required for giving presentations, leading meetings and roundtable discussions, and participating in interviews; and learn how to prepare for and participate in a job search. This certificate is available online and on-campus.

Contact the Business Communication and Information Systems Department (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/departments-programs/business-communication-and-information-systems>) (Schneider 404) for more information.

- Select appropriate technologies and software to create documents and presentations, present data, and facilitate meetings.

Business Administration, Major

(Code 740-200) or (Code 740-201 online degree completion)

Because it is the only “standard major” in the College of Business, students earning the business administration (BSAD) major must also complete a second major, minor, or certificate to earn their degree. The BSAD major is composed primarily of the BUSCORE, which is a core requirement for all College of Business majors, plus the secondary area of concentration. The BSAD major is intended for students who want to pair their business interests with a field of interest outside the College of Business. Students representing over 40 different programs across campus are pairing the BSAD major with their majors, minors, or certificates to develop a diverse skill set that makes them more versatile and attractive to employers and to tailor their education to their interests and career goals. This degree is available on campus and online.

Because the BSAD major is primarily intended for students to pair their interest in business with an interest outside the College of Business, combinations of the business administration major with other College of Business programs are limited (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/business/#academicprogramtext>).

- BBA Common Body of Knowledge: Students will demonstrate discipline-specific knowledge (represented by the BUSCORE).

Business Administration, B.B.A. (Standard Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

The Business Administration (BSAD) major requires another standard major or a minor or a certificate. The minor or certificate can come from any department on campus. Please see the program Overview (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/undergraduate/business/business-communication-info-systems/business-administration-major-bba/>) for examples of how to pair your program with the Business Administration major.

B.B.A., Business Communication (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan based on the current catalog. Please note that sample degree plans can vary each year, due to curriculum revisions. This sample degree plan is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internship (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/s>) (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/>), and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

Information Systems, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major): Information Systems Track

summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

Entrepreneurship, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Please click here for a description of the outcomes and requirements.

Students pursuing this major are strongly encouraged to double major or add a minor and certificate. See your advisor for additional information.

Health Care Administration Leadership, Comprehensive Major

(Code 660-055)

The Health Care Administration Leadership program at UW-Eau Claire offers students with a “head for business” and a “heart for caring” a pathway to health care leadership and an opportunity to make a difference in people’s lives. The program’s multidisciplinary coursework in health care, business, management, aging, policy, and emphasis on leadership development ensures students develop the knowledge and skills needed to lead interdisciplinary care teams, optimize operations, improve patient experiences, and ensure high-quality care. HCAD graduates are well-prepared (and in demand) to assume leadership roles across post-acute and long-term care settings. For students considering entering the acute care sector (hospitals), the program offers excellent preparation for the graduate education required.

Signature Student Experiences:

- A paid, 12-month administrative residency provides practical leadership training in approved healthcare settings. Sites are largely concentrated in the upper Midwest, but there may also be a few in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and beyond.
- An annual professional networking event and career interview fair connects soon-to-be graduates with partners of the program, giving organizations who support the HCAD program first dibs at hiring our talented graduates to lead their healthcare organizations, immediately after graduation!
- Numerous immersive learning experiences to help HCAD students gain a firsthand understanding of the profession and the dynamic environment of health care. When students engage in research with faculty, network with professionals at conferences, or participate in domestic or foreign immersion experiences, they build self-confidence, passion, and can envision themselves making a difference as health care leaders.
- The HCAD program is accredited as a Health Services Executive™ program by the National Association of Long Term Care Administrator Boards (NAB). Graduates are eligible for the Nursing Home Administrator (NHA) licensure exam in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and most other states and are also eligible to pursue the Health Services Executive (HSE) credential, increasing licensure mobility, career opportunities, and leadership potential across a majority of states.

Immediately upon graduation, HCAD graduates are prepared to take on leadership roles that positively impact care recipients, healthcare teams, and organizations—and build rewarding careers in an essential and expanding profession.

Scholarships. Multiple scholarships are available to students in the Health Care Administration major through our Center for Health Administration and Aging Services Excellence (CHAASE). Additional scholarships are also available through the College of Business, Department of Management and Leadership Programs, and the broader University. Information may be obtained by visiting the Scholarship section of the Admissions website (<https://www.uwec.edu/admissions/scholarships/>).

Application to the Administrative Residency

Application to the Administrative Residency

Any student may declare Health Care Administration as a major, but 15 months prior to when a student plans to begin their Administrative Residency, they apply to join their Administrative Residency Cohort. Because students spend their final academic year in their Administrative Residency, this application is typically due by early March of a student's sophomore year. However, this application timeline may vary for some students (e.g., transfer students or those who change majors), and students will work with their ARCC advisor to determine the appropriate time to apply.

This application will be submitted electronically, and eligibility criteria include:

1. declared Health Care Administration major
2. resident and total GPA of at least 2.5
3. HCAD 101 is in progress or completed
4. an advisor-approved plan, demonstrating the student can fulfill all non-administrative residency requirements of the University, College of Business, and Health Care Administration major prior to the start of residency

For transfer students lacking a resident GPA or the HCAD 101 requirement, these criteria may be waived. For students not meeting minimum GPA requirements (or who apply after the cohort admission deadline), conditional admission may be possible, potentially with adjustments made to the process of site application.

Administrative Residency

Following satisfactory completion of all required campus-based courses, including Liberal Education, each June, a new cohort begins their Administrative Residency, consisting of 50 weeks of applied learning in an affiliated health care organization. This learning experience is akin to a structured internship, and the student is also enrolled in several applied, online courses where they obtain additional instruction, as well as attend several in-person learning modules back on campus. Students are enrolled as full-time students at UW-Eau Claire throughout the Administrative Residency. Although they are paying tuition and fees to the University, students in the Administrative Residency also receive a generous provider-sponsored stipend.

Although the University cannot guarantee placement at an administrative residency site, the HCAD program aids the student in every way possible. Since academic achievement plays a part in site selection of students for the administrative residency, resident and total GPAs above the 2.5 minimum are recommended, as is engagement in applied health care, leadership, and/or professional experiences, of which the Health Care Administration program offers many.

The Administrative Residency runs annually, approximately June-May. Because the process of applying to residency sites begins more than a year in advance of the start of the residency experience, students apply to their Administrative Residency Cohort approximately 15 months prior to their desired residency start date. For most students this means they apply to their Residency Cohort by early March of their sophomore year. However, this application timeline may vary for some students (e.g., transfer students or those who change majors), and students will work with their ARCC advisor to determine the appropriate time to apply.

More information about this process may be found on the Health Care Administration program website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/programs/undergraduate/health-care-administration>). Even once placed at an administrative residency site, students must meet and complete all academic standing requirements and non-administrative residency course work before beginning Residency. If a student's degree plan changes such that more time is required to complete non-administrative residency course requirements, students may be reassigned to a future cohort.

Health Care Administration is a professional discipline, and students enrolled in the program must anticipate some additional costs that are directly related to the Administrative Residency. These include special course fees on some residency courses, health requirements, technology costs (e.g., laptop and internet access), and transportation and lodging associated with the administrative residency experience and in-person learning modules.

Student Background Check and Health Requirements

State law requires background checks on all students placed at clinical sites, including administrative residency sites. All Residency students must complete the Wisconsin Department of Health and Family Services Background Information Disclosure, as well as a release for a Wisconsin Department of Justice Criminal Background Check. Non-resident students must also have background checks completed in their state of residence. Additional information regarding the Wisconsin Caregiver Program can be obtained from the Wisconsin Department of Health Services website (<https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/caregiver/>).

Within 90 days prior to beginning the Administrative Residency, the student must have a physical exam to provide evidence that the student is free from infectious disease and evidence of a negative TB skin test. A chest X-ray is required if the TB skin test is positive. Students are not permitted to participate in Residency unless all legal or organizational requirements for immunizations,

TB tests, and background checks are current. It is also recommended that students be vaccinated annually against infectious diseases.

All expenses associated with background checks and health requirements are borne by the student unless the Student Health Service specifically indicates otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the administrative residency facility, or the administrative residency institution. In addition, workers' compensation insurance does not cover students engaged in Residency. For example, if a student suffers a needle stick or is hurt at their Administrative Residency site, they will need personal health insurance to cover medical bills.

Readmission to the Health Care Administration Program

If a student withdraws from the program after being admitted to a Residency Cohort, but wishes to return, they must reapply to a future cohort with an updated plan demonstrating that they meet current eligibility requirements. Depending on the timing of such application, with an understanding that all Administrative Residency Cohorts begin in June, an alternate process of residency site application may need to be followed.

Termination from Program

A student may be terminated from their Administrative Residency or Cohort for any of the following reasons:

1. Failure to maintain good academic standing.
2. Failure to demonstrate the potential for consistently safe, responsible, and ethical professional practice.
3. Likelihood that a student's condition, presentation, or prior experience will adversely affect the student, other persons, the University, an agency or site used for administrative residency, or the patients or residents served.
4. Non-placement with an administrative residency site after protocols for matching students to sites have been exhausted.

If a student demonstrates deficiencies during the Administrative Residency or other professional networking experiences that the faculty or administrative residency supervisor determine to be clearly unsafe or unprofessional behavior, the student may be immediately removed from their administrative residency site and/or cohort.

A student who has been notified of termination from the program may appeal for reinstatement. This policy applies only to termination from the Health Care Administration Administrative Residency and/or Cohort. A student's status within the University remains subject to university academic standing policies.

Health Care Administration Leadership, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Human Resource Management, Comprehensive Major

(Code 823-000)

The Human Resource Management major is structured to prepare students for careers in HRM immediately upon graduation or shortly thereafter. Historically, “personnel departments” were primarily administrative in scope. Today, there is tremendous complexity, diversity, and sophistication confronting managers of human resources. Most corporations require highly skilled professionals who have been academically trained in the areas of HRM. Corporations now are looking to the “human resource function” as a strategic partner in executive decision making. The HRM emphasis will prepare students in the following areas: staffing (recruitment and selection), training and development, labor relations, compensation and benefits, employee relations, organizational change, and relevant legal concerns. Students are encouraged to take leadership courses and complete an internship.

Credits for Graduation

All candidates for the BBA degree need a minimum of 120 credits to graduate.

Student Professional Development Program

All students pursuing a major in the College of Business must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. All students pursuing a minor in the Department of Management and Leadership Programs must complete the Student Professional Development Workshops. The program is designed to equip students with the skills needed to present themselves professionally during their job search and upon entering their chosen careers. Students are strongly encouraged to complete the workshops prior to the end of their third semester on campus. The program consists of four workshops: The Business Professional, Professional Image, Professional Etiquette, Professional Networking Event. For more information, visit the College of Business website (<http://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business/academic-resources/student-professional-development-program/>).

Human Resource Management, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. International Business, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). This is done by submitting a resumé that outlines the student's leadership positions and experiences, briefly explaining responsibilities and accomplishments in each case, and submitting a letter of recommendation from an organization advisor, board member (non-student), or other supervisor. The letter of recommendation must specifically attest to the leadership requirements of the position held, and give specific examples of the leadership skills demonstrated by the student. Generic, employment-related letters of reference will not be accepted.

⁴ Candidates for the Leadership Studies Certificate must submit a paper that reflects on the leadership experience documented by the resumé and letter of recommendation described above. The paper should be five to seven pages in length, double-spaced, and in 12-point font. The suggested outline for the paper is as follows:

- A description of the leadership experience
- Self-evaluation of your strengths and weakness as a leader during these experiences
- Strategies and tactics for improving on your weaknesses and capitalizing on your strengths as a leader
- Evaluation of how your leadership coursework relates to your leadership experiences

⁵ The leadership resume, recommendation, and reflection paper are to be submitted through an eform (<https://uwec.bplgix.net/form.aspx?pid=d6b4de7a-a68b-41af-97f5-ecc275ef7d2d&formid=9abe8619-58b7-42a0-9046-b9d4cc13d7b5&forminstid=&wfinstid=&prinstid=&tlid=&testmode=&parsecontrols=&CTRun=&CTConfigure=&CTContainerFORMID=&CTContainerWFID=&CTContainerRU>)

Management, B.B.A. (Comprehensive Major)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Professional Sales, Comprehensive Major

A Professional Sales major prepares students for one of the most in-demand and rewarding careers in business. In today's competitive marketplace, companies need skilled sales professionals who can build relationships, solve complex business problems, and drive revenue growth. Business-to-business sales isn't about pushy tactics—it's about strategic thinking, trust-building, and value creation. Students learn to sell solutions, not just products, by understanding client needs and aligning them with tailored offerings.

Key Benefits:

- Excellent Career Opportunities: Graduates enter the workforce with a clear career path and strong earning potential. Business-to-business sales roles often include account management, technical sales, business development, and consultative selling, with opportunities to quickly move into leadership.
- Hands-On, Real-World Learning: Students develop practical skills through role-plays, CRM training, sales competitions, and internships. This experience translates directly into confidence and success on the job from day one.
- Transferable Skills: Skills in communication, negotiation, problem-solving, and data analysis gained through a Professional Sales major are highly valued across roles and industries—even for those who don't stay in sales long term.
- Competitive Advantage: A formal sales education sets graduates apart in the job market. While many professionals "fall into" sales, those with specialized training are better prepared to succeed—and to lead.

Military Science and Leadership

Military Science and Leadership

Schneider Social Science 209 | 715-836-3617 | ArmyROTC@uwec.edu
www.uwec.edu/cob/centerforleadership/rotc

The Military Science and Leadership (MSL) courses are part of the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) and provide a dynamic student-focused learning environment designed to develop adaptive and agile leaders of character. ROTC is a unique program in that it is led by Active Duty and National Guard cadre, but run primarily by the students. Cadre facilitate the lecture portion of the curriculum and the students plan and execute the leadership labs and physical training. MSL courses focus on management and leadership skills and prepare a student to receive a commission as an Army officer for either active duty, the Army National Guard, or the Army Reserve.

MSL classes include three components: lecture, leadership lab, and physical training sessions:

Lecture – Cadre-facilitated discussions focus on leadership development, leadership theories, Army fundamentals, written and oral communication skills, cultural awareness, mentoring, problem solving, and emphasize practical leadership application.

Leadership Lab – Provide engaging, hands-on, and realistic application of the lecture lessons of the previous weeks. The focus of labs is on field craft and Army fundamentals. The two-hour lab sessions are planned and executed by the Advance Course (MSL 300) cadets, giving them an opportunity to utilize unit training management and troop-leading procedures preparing them for their summer training event.

Physical Training – Includes techniques to improve muscular strength and endurance and cardio-respiratory capacity. Includes strength and aerobic exercises, water confidence training, distance running, military drills and team sports. There are three, one-hour physical training sessions per week; however, non-contracted students are only required to attend one.

Additional Opportunities. Students also participate in off-campus training exercises and competitions designed to reinforce training and challenge their physical and mental capacities.

Basic Courses. 100- and 200-level MSL courses are open to any UW-Eau Claire undergraduate student, regardless of major. Students may start the classes in either the fall or spring semester. Taking these classes requires no obligation to the Army. These courses give students the opportunity to learn about the Army and how the Army implements leadership. Additionally, credits from the Basic Courses (MSL 100 and MSL 200) can be applied towards the Military Leadership Minor.

Advanced Courses. 300- and 400-level MSL courses are open to any UW-Eau Claire undergraduate student regardless of major. Taking these classes requires that the student make a commitment to contract as a Cadet, which requires service to the active Army, Army Reserve, or Army National Guard after graduation. Enrollment requires receiving credit for the basic courses and meeting Army prerequisites. Students must have four semesters remaining in full-time status to complete the MSL 301/MSL 302/MSL 401/MSL 402 course series. Students hold leadership positions throughout the semester and have significant responsibilities in planning and leading training during leadership lab and physical training. All advanced cadets attend the capstone Advance Course at Fort Knox, KY. MSL 301 and MSL 302 must be taken in sequence followed by the capstone summer training. Students are also required to take MSL 304, which is an upper level U.S. military history course offered in fall and spring semesters. MSL 304 is required for the Military Leadership minor.

ROTC Scholarships. Cadets may be eligible for tuition scholarship, room and board scholarship, study abroad scholarship, or federal tuition benefits. For more information, visit www.goarmy.com/rotc/scholarships.jsp (<http://www.goarmy.com/rotc/scholarships.jsp>) or contact the ROTC cadre in Schneider 209. Interested students must contact the ROTC Office to determine the correct courses to enroll in to get enrollment permissions and complete required paperwork.

Criminal History and/or Caregiver Background Checks

Wisconsin law requires that persons responsible for the care, safety, and security of children and adults will be required to have background checks. In some cases, placement into an externship, professional education site, internship, or practicum is dependent on a student's background check results. If a student is not cleared to participate in a specific placement due to their background check results, they may also be unable to complete academic program requirements. Students should work closely with their advisors and the Associate Dean to determine if the results of their background check will impact their ability to progress through their academic program. No student is allowed to start a placement until the required background check has been completed and the student has been cleared to start placement.

The background check must be completed by a College of Health and Human Sciences vendor within 12 months of the placement start date. Students are responsible for all costs associated with background checks. The background check process starts with the student signing the background check consent form and completing the Background Information Disclosure form. Results of checks may be shared with the placement site. Falsification or omission of information may constitute grounds for denial of admission to a placement or associated course. If the falsification or omission is discovered after a student starts in a placement, the placement opportunity may be terminated. Any new charges, convictions, or changes in background check results that occur between the initial report and graduation must be reported in writing to the Associate Dean of the College of Health and Human Sciences. For further information, contact the College of Health and Human Sciences Associate Dean's Office (Centennial 3015).

Liability for Health Care Expenses

All expenses associated with health surveillance and care are borne by the student unless the Student Health Service specifically indicates otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the College of Health and Human Sciences, the placement site or associated institution. In addition, workers' compensation insurance does not cover students. If a student is injured while in a placement, they are responsible for any associated expenses.

Special Course Fees

Some courses require a special fee because of the nature of the activity or supplies required to complete the course. Current special course fees are shown in CampS.

Directed and Independent Studies

Many opportunities are available for students to study independently or in small groups, problems and topics in their field of study which may not be included or explored in depth in regular course offerings.

Directed Studies

Directed studies for groups can be arranged by departments and offered as special courses, either on campus or in off-campus settings, to permit individual students or groups of students to undertake special projects related to their educational interests and goals.

Eligibility: Registration for a Directed Study course requires the permission of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the project and of the department offering the course. Any further conditions of eligibility are established by the department and published as part of the course description.

Restrictions: A total of no more than six credits of Directed Study courses may be counted toward graduation. Directed Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the Liberal Education requirements. Departments also may restrict the application of such credits to their majors and minors.

Procedures: Permission to register for a directed studies learning opportunity may be obtained from department offices.

Independent Studies

Independent study, through a student-initiated procedure in which a unit of study is described and approved prior to enrollment, allows a student to earn one to three credits for each such educational experience in fields where they have already demonstrated their competence.

Eligibility: Independent Study courses are open only to juniors and seniors. A student with a departmental major and/or minor may elect an Independent Study in the department of the major or of the minor, provided the student has at least 3.00 resident and total GPAs in that department. A student with a multidisciplinary major may elect an Independent Study in any department which has courses required in the major, provided the student has at least 3.00 resident and total GPAs in the major and has earned a minimum of six credits with resident and total GPAs of at least 3.00 in the department in which the Independent Study is elected.

Restrictions: Only three credits of Independent Study (399 or 499) may be elected during any semester. A total of no more than six independent study credits may be counted toward graduation. Independent Study courses may not be applied toward completion of the Liberal Education requirements.

Procedures: The student shall outline an Independent Study proposal to a professor willing to direct the study. The department chair and the professor directing the study must give permission in order for the student to register for a 399 or 499 course. An electronic Independent/Directed Study Approval Form should be submitted and approved by the end of the fourth week of the semester (second week of Summer Session). Forms are available on the College of Health and Human Sciences Sharepoint. (<https://universityofwisc Eau Claire.sharepoint.com/sites/collegeofhealthandhumansciences/Lists/eForms/AllItems.aspx>)

Pre-Professional Programs

Pre-professional programs help students prepare for entrance into professional or graduate degree programs after earning their undergraduate degree. Pre-professional programs are not academic degree programs (that is, they are not academic majors, minors, or certificates). Instead, pre-professional programs provide an organized approach to academic advising for students intending to apply to a professional or graduate degree program. To enhance academic planning and preparation while enrolled at UW-Eau Claire, a student interested in obtaining a professional or graduate degree should:

- Declare an academic major that is logically connected to the professional field.
- Connect with a faculty or academic advisor to select classes that will prepare you to apply for admission to a specific type of professional or graduate degree program.
- Seek out information about opportunities to gain experience in your desired area of professional or graduate study. This may include employment or volunteer work related to your career goals, engagement in a Faculty-Student Collaborative Research project, or participation in a student organization focused on a specific career.

The following pre-professional programs are housed in the College of Health and Human Sciences:

Admission to Education Program

Admission to the Education Program

Students must apply for admission to the Education Program. Applications are due by October 1 for spring admission or March 1 for fall admission. To submit an application to an Education Program, students must satisfy all of the requirements listed below:

1. Approval by the appropriate department in the College of Health and Human Sciences.
2. Pre-education status.
3. Students must have attained at least Sophomore Status
4. Minimum total GPA of 2.5 or minimum resident GPA of 2.5. Admission is competitive; thus, the minimum GPA does not assure admission.

5. Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Communication & Literacy-Writing with a C or better.
6. Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Mathematics & Quantitative Reasoning with a C or better.
7. Good academic standing.
8. Complete an introductory education course with a field placement (SEIP 208, ES 212, or the equivalent) with a grade of C or better.

Specific majors may have additional department-level criteria. Consult with the department if needed.

Admission to Professional Education Semester (Student Teaching or Internship)

Admission to the Professional Education Semester

The "Professional Education Semester" is defined as the semester in which a student is enrolled in the field experience of student teaching or internship.

Filing Notice of Intent to Student Teach Applications: Information concerning the Notice of Intent to Student Teach will be advertised widely and posted across campus each semester with an associated due date. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the fall semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the fall. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the spring semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the spring.

Students are encouraged to submit their Notice of Intent to Student Teach by the announced due date. Considerable time is required to process each notice—that is, to determine eligibility, to make arrangements with schools for an appropriate field experience assignment, and to allow for introductions, orientations, and, in some cases, interviews. Students who file on time will benefit by the careful consideration that can be given to their requests; the later a notice is received, the fewer the placement assignments and choices still available will be. Failure to file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach on time may result in a delay of the Professional Education Semester.

Transfer and Special Students: No transfer or special student can enter the Professional Education Semester until after a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Eau Claire. Senior transfer students enrolling in September must file an application for admission to the professional semester by December 1 for the following fall.

Criteria for Admission:

1. Admitted to the appropriate Education Program.
2. Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog.
3. A minimum of 90 earned credits prior to start of Professional Education Semester.
4. Minimum total GPA of 2.75 or minimum resident GPA of 2.75.
5. Completion of the 30-hour Human Relations Fieldwork requirement.
6. Evidence of freedom from Tuberculosis via test conducted by Student Health Services.
7. Completion of required criminal background check.

For placements that start in the Fall semester, criteria for admission must be met by March 1 of the prior semester. For placements that start in the Spring semester, criteria for admission must be met by October 1 of the prior semester.

For placements that start in the summer session, criteria for admission must be met by February 1 of the prior semester.

Licensure Requirements

Licensure to Teach

College of Health and Human Sciences graduates who desire to teach in Wisconsin, will apply for licensure using the WI Department of Public Instruction's (DPI) ELO (Electronic Licensing Online) by following all steps listed on the site including fingerprinting if applicable.

Upon completion of all program requirements and WI DPI teaching requirements, information will be forwarded to DPI verifying program completion, the completion of all required tests, and information on all certifications the teaching candidates are eligible for with licensure. Candidates will then apply for their Initial License.

It is recommended that graduates seeking licensure to teach in states other than Wisconsin request application forms and instructions from the state in which licensure is desired. Early inquiry is suggested as the certification requirements vary by state. In most cases, an official transcript of credits must accompany the completed application form; additional tests or coursework may be required. In general, candidates may be able to obtain licenses in other states; however, these licenses may be issued with stipulations. It is the student's responsibility to understand the licensing requirements of other states. UW-Eau Claire programs are designed to meet the requirements in Wisconsin only.

Criteria for Recommendation for Licensure:

1. Completion of a baccalaureate degree.
2. Completion of an approved education major, minor, and/or certificate.
3. 2.75 or higher GPA in the major, minor, and/or certificate (if certifiable). All college level courses, except student teaching or internship are included when determining GPA for licensure.
4. Completion of student teaching or internship courses with an S.
5. Content area proficiency as demonstrated by earning a minimum 3.0 GPA in content courses OR via obtaining a passing score on the appropriate Praxis II. Candidates for licensure in Languages must obtain a passing score on the ACTFL written portion (WPT) and must pass the OPI/OPIc within three years prior to the start of student teaching or internship. All candidates seeking licensure must also earn a passing score on the FORT.

Program Learning Outcomes

Students completing this program will be expected to meet the following learning outcomes:

- Understand how learners grow and develop, recognizing that patterns of learning and development vary individually within and across the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical areas, and design and implement developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.
- Use understanding of individual differences and diverse cultures and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.
- Work with others to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning, and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.
- Understand the central tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline(s) they teach and create learning experiences that make the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to ensure acquisition of content.
- Understand how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.
- Understand and use multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the teacher's and learners' decision making.
- Plan instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals by drawing upon knowledge of content areas, curriculum, cross-disciplinary skills, and pedagogy, as well as knowledge of learners and the community context.
- Understand and use a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections, and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.
- Engage in ongoing professional learning and use evidence to continually evaluate their practice, particularly the effects of their choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professionals, and the community), and adapt practice to meet the needs of each learner.
- Seek appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning; to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals and community members to ensure learner growth; and to advance the profession.

Elementary-Middle Education: Grades K-9, Major (B.S.)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must have:

1. Earned a C or better in KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 309.
2. Earned a cumulative GPA of 2.5 or higher.

Once admitted into the Exercise Science program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.5.
2. Display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Exercise Science Policy for Disposition Intervention.
3. Earn a C or better in KINS 312, KINS 357, KINS 476, KINS 498, BIOL 196.

Students who are not admitted into the Exercise Science program are eligible to reapply; however, their graduation may be delayed.

Transfer students who are interested in applying for the Exercise Science program should contact the Exercise Science program director. Please note that transfer students must complete KINS 309 at UW-Eau Claire.

Exercise Science, Comprehensive Major (B.S.)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. The Master of Science in Athletic Training (MSAT) Accelerated Plan allows qualified undergraduate students to complete the fourth year of the Exercise Science major while completing the first year of MSAT coursework. The accelerated pathway for the Master of Science degree in Athletic Training is five years upon matriculation to UW-Eau Claire.

Students who plan to pursue the MSAT Accelerated Plan should add the Pre-Athletic Training advising track to their Exercise Science degree plan early in their time at UW-Eau Claire. In addition, any student interested in the MSAT Accelerated Plan should consult with the MSAT Program Director and their academic advisor to ensure they are on track to apply for the accelerated pathway. Accelerated coursework is confirmed upon admission to the MSAT degree program and completion of the first term in the MSAT program. A student will earn a Master of Science in Athletic Training upon successful completion of the fifth year in the MSAT program. Students who successfully complete the five-year program will be eligible to take the Board of Certification (BOC) Inc. examination and pursue state-level licensure as an entry-level athletic trainer.

The following MSAT courses will fulfill degree requirements for the Exercise Science major and the MSAT Program (33 credits during the fourth year):

KINS 700A	Principles of Athletic Training	3
KINS 701A	Applied Anatomy	2
KINS 710A	Foundations of Clinical Practice	3
KINS 714A	Pathophysiology & Emergency Medicine	3
KINS 720A	Physical Assessment and Treatment of the Lower Extremity	5
KINS 721A	Physical Assessment and Treatment of the Head and Spine	4
KINS 722A	Physical Assessment and Treatment of the Upper Body	5

- Earn a grade of C or better in all accelerated (KINS 7XXXXA) coursework. Any course grade below a C cannot be used to fulfill MSAT requirements.

Failure to maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA in concurrent accelerated B.S. in Exercise Science/MSAT coursework may prohibit a student from continuation in the program.

The Master of Science in Exercise Physiology (MSEP) Accelerated Plan allows qualified undergraduate students to complete the fourth year of a Rehabilitation Science or Exercise Science major while completing the first year of MSEP coursework. The accelerated pathway for the Master of Science degree in Exercise Physiology is five years upon matriculation to UW-Eau Claire.

Students who plan to pursue the MSEP Accelerated Plan should add the Pre-Exercise Physiology advising track to their Rehabilitation Science or Exercise Science degree plan early in their time at UW-Eau Claire. In addition, any student interested in the MSEP Accelerated plan should consult with the MSEP Program Director and their academic advisor to ensure they are on track to apply for the accelerated pathway. Accelerated coursework is confirmed upon admission to the MSEP degree program and completion of the first term in the MSEP program. 3. Criteria and requirements for Admission to Education Program and Admission to the Professional Education Semester.

4. Specific requirements for programs offered in the College of Health and Human Sciences as outlined in department specific sections of this catalog.

Admission to Education Program

Admission to the Education Program

Students must apply for admission to the Education Program. Applications are due by October 1 for spring admission or March 1 for fall admission. To submit an application to an Education Program, students must satisfy all of the requirements listed below:

1. Approval by the appropriate department in the College of Health and Human Sciences.
2. Pre-education status.
3. Students must have attained at least Sophomore Status
4. Minimum total GPA of 2.5 or minimum resident GPA of 2.5. Admission is competitive; thus, the minimum GPA does not assure admission.
5. Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Communication & Literacy-Writing with a C or better.
6. Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Mathematics & Quantitative Reasoning with a C or better.
7. Good academic standing.
8. Complete an introductory education course with a field placement (SEIP 208, ES 212, or the equivalent) with a grade of C or better.

Specific majors may have additional department-level criteria. Consult with the department if needed.

Admission Requirements Specific to Physical Education Teaching

The Physical Education Teaching Program Committee will review applicants for admission to the program and make recommendations to the Teacher Education Admissions Committee based on the following criteria:

1. Grade Point Average (GPA)
2. A professional teaching resume outlining:
 - a. Experiences with children and adolescents
 - b. Involvement in professional organizations
3. Faculty and staff evaluations
4. Performance evaluations from Kinesiology courses
5. A minimum resident and overall GPA of 2.5

Admission to Professional Education Semester (Student Teaching or Internship)

Admission to the Professional Education Semester

The "Professional Education Semester" is defined as the semester in which a student is enrolled in the field experience of student teaching or internship.

Filing Notice of Intent to Student Teach Applications: Information concerning the Notice of Intent to Student Teach will be advertised widely and posted across campus each semester with an associated due date. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the fall semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the fall. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the spring semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the spring.

Students are encouraged to submit their Notice of Intent to Student Teach by the announced due date. Considerable time is required to process each notice—that is, to determine eligibility, to make arrangements with schools for an appropriate field experience assignment, and to allow for introductions, orientations, and, in some cases, interviews. Students who file on time will benefit by the careful consideration that can be given to their requests; the later a notice is received, the fewer the placement assignments and choices still available will be. Failure to file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach on time may result in a delay of the Professional Education Semester.

Transfer and Special Students: No transfer or special student can enter the Professional Education Semester until after a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Eau Claire. Senior transfer students enrolling in September must file an application for admission to the professional semester by December 1 for the following fall.

Criteria for Admission:

1. Admitted to the appropriate Education Program.
2. Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog.
3. A minimum of 90 earned credits prior to start of Professional Education Semester.
4. Minimum total GPA of 2.75 or minimum resident GPA of 2.75.
5. Completion of the 30-hour Human Relations Fieldwork requirement.
6. Evidence of freedom from Tuberculosis via test conducted by Student Health Services.

7. Completion of required criminal background check.

For placements that start in the Fall semester, criteria for admission must be met by March 1 of the prior semester. For placements that start in the Spring semester, criteria for admission must be met by October 1 of the prior semester.

For placements that start in the summer session, criteria for admission must be met by February 1 of the prior semester.

Licensure Requirements

Licensure to Teach

College of Health and Human Sciences graduates who desire to teach in Wisconsin, will apply for licensure using the WI Department of Public Instruction's (DPI) ELO (Electronic Licensing Online) by following all steps listed on the site including fingerprinting if applicable.

Upon completion of all program requirements and WI DPI teaching requirements, information will be forwarded to DPI verifying program completion, the completion of all required tests, and information on all certifications the teaching candidates are eligible for with licensure. Candidates will then apply for their Initial License.

It is recommended that graduates seeking licensure to teach in states other than Wisconsin request application forms and instructions from the state in which licensure is desired. Early inquiry is suggested as the certification requirements vary by state. In most cases, an official transcript of credits must accompany the completed application form; additional tests or coursework may be required. In general, candidates may be able to obtain licenses in other states; however, these licenses may be issued with stipulations. It is the student's responsibility to understand the licensing requirements of other states. UW-Eau Claire programs are designed to meet the requirements in Wisconsin only.

Criteria for Recommendation for Licensure:

1. Completion of a baccalaureate degree.
2. Completion of an approved education major, minor, and/or certificate.

College Degree Requirements

Program and Degree Requirements

Specific requirements are published in conjunction with the Catalog description of the major leading to the degree.

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College of Health and Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs as required by their chosen major, minor, or certificate. The specific GPA requirements for majors within the College of Health and Human Sciences are as follows:

- Exercise Science, Comprehensive Major: 2.5 total GPA.
- Professional Studies, Comprehensive Major: 2.0 total GPA.
- Rehabilitation Science, Comprehensive Major: 2.75 total GPA.
- Social Work, Comprehensive Major: 2.00 total GPA.
- Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences, Comprehensive Major: 2.00 total GPA.

The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:
 - Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
 - A minor (at least 24 credits), or
 - A certificate (12-18 credits)

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

Admission to Rehabilitation Science Comprehensive Major

This major provides foundational coursework and experiential learning opportunities that prepare students for professional school/graduate study in cardiac rehabilitation, physical therapy, occupational therapy, chiropractic medicine, therapeutic recreation, rehabilitation sciences, medical school, and physician assistant programs. This major also prepares students for employment in medical-based fitness centers, cardiac rehabilitation programs, gerontology/senior fitness programs, and community centers that offer physical activity programs for individuals with disabilities or special needs.

Formal application to the Rehabilitation Science Major typically occurs during either semester of a student's second year. Rehabilitation Science is a competitive program, and not all students who meet the minimum requirements are admitted. Students who are not admitted to the major can apply in a future semester; however, graduation may be delayed.

Transfer students are eligible to apply for admission to the Rehabilitation Science Major once they meet the application requirements. Transfer students should be aware that KINS 320 must be taken at UW-Eau Claire. Transfer students who are interested in the Rehabilitation Science Comprehensive Major should inform the Admissions Office upon application for admission to the University and contact the Rehabilitation Science program director.

The Rehabilitation Science Program Committee will screen students for admission to the program. At the time of application, students must:

1. Have a minimum resident and total GPA of 2.75.
2. Submit a completed program application form.
3. Be enrolled in or have completed KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 320.
4. Submit a cover letter and resume highlighting qualifications related to Rehabilitation Science

Student admission will be based on the following criteria:

1. Total GPA - 40%
2. Overall performance in KINS 304, KINS 308, and KINS 320 - 36%
3. Evaluation of student cover letter, resume, and application self-reflective essays - 24%

Once admitted into the Rehabilitation Science program, the student must meet the following criteria to remain in the program:

1. Maintain a 3.00 GPA in all Rehabilitation Science core courses.
2. Continue to display appropriate dispositions regarding professional development, as outlined in the Policy for Disposition Intervention, Department of Kinesiology, Rehabilitation Science Major.
3. Complete each course, lab, and practicum experience within the Rehabilitation Science core (KINS 320, KINS 351, KINS 355, KINS 358, KINS 440, KINS 464, KINS 466, KINS 477, KINS 478) with a C+ or higher.

College Degree Requirements

Program and Degree Requirements

Specific requirements are published in conjunction with the Catalog description of the major leading to the degree.

Degree Requirements

University Graduation Requirements. All candidates for degrees must fulfill the requirements for credits, curriculum, GPA, and University residency as specified in the section of this catalog titled University Graduation Requirements.

College of Health and Human Sciences Graduation Requirements: Grade Point Averages. All degree candidates must earn minimum resident and total GPAs as required by their chosen major, minor, or certificate. The specific GPA requirements for majors within the College of Health and Human Sciences are as follows:

- Exercise Science, Comprehensive Major: 2.5 total GPA.
- Professional Studies, Comprehensive Major: 2.0 total GPA.
- Rehabilitation Science, Comprehensive Major: 2.75 total GPA.
- Social Work, Comprehensive Major: 2.00 total GPA.
- Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences, Comprehensive Major: 2.00 total GPA.

The resident and total GPAs for the major are computed using all attempted credits applicable to the major including those offered by departments other than the major department. The resident and total GPAs for the second program are computed similarly.

Major-Minor and Major-Certificate Requirements. Each candidate for a baccalaureate degree must present one of the following:

- Comprehensive major (at least 60 credits)
- Standard major (at least 36 credits) plus one of the following:

- Another standard major (at least 36 credits), or
- A minor (at least 24 credits), or
- A certificate (12-18 credits)

Certain degree programs which include Comprehensive Majors may require more than the minimum of 120 credits for graduation.

Admission Requirements

The Social Work Program operates under a selective admissions policy. The policy is based on the need to maintain a program of excellence in the classroom and to assure availability of quality internship placements. The Department of Social Work reserves the right to admit a limited number of students each semester. Meeting the minimum standards does not guarantee a student will be admitted to the major.

Social Work is a professional discipline on the baccalaureate level, and, thus, admissions and retention processes are implemented and strictly followed. Students are evaluated on a regular basis. Students interested in earning a Bachelor of Social Work Degree must first be admitted to the Social Work major. Enrollment in selected upper division social work courses is restricted to students who have been formally admitted to the major. This formal application to the major is the first step in meeting requirements for graduation with a B.S.W. degree. A second review of continued eligibility occurs with application for admission to internship (SW 481 or SW 482). Students with any concerns regarding eligibility are urged to consult their academic advisor. Students will be asked to sign a statement that they have read and agreed to abide by the National Association of Social Workers' Code of Ethics. Students may appeal a denial of admission to the major or internship by following procedures outlined in the Social Work Student Handbook.

Application Process and Procedures

1. Students seeking admission are required to complete an application E-form (electronic form) available from the student portal of listed forms. At the point of admission:
 - a. Students must have accumulated 30 credits.
 - b. A minimum GPA of 2.0 is required in SW 100 (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/search/?P=SW%20100>) and SW 220 (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/search/?P=SW%20220>). Each course must be completed with a grade of C or above.
 - c. A minimum total GPA of 2.0 is required, which includes courses transferred from other colleges and universities.
 - d. Students will show knowledge of social work and a commitment to social work values as demonstrated by the submission of a single-spaced essay up to two pages that addresses how your values and experiences have formed your decision to select social work as a major.
 - e. Students must be in good academic standing in the semester in which they apply.
 - f. Students may repeat a grade below C in SW 100 (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/search/?P=SW%20100>) and/or SW 220 (<https://catalog.uwec.edu/search/?P=SW%20220>) according to University guidelines. Repeat of course(s) must be completed (not current) for any such courses before application for admission will be processed.
 - g. Completion of University Writing Requirement.

Any student who withdraws from the social work major at UW-Eau Claire or who does not take classes at UW-Eau Claire for two or more sequential semesters must reapply for admission into the program. Readmission to the program is not guaranteed.

Social Work, Comprehensive Major (B.S.W.)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Department Website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-education-human-sciences/departments-programs/special-education-inclusive-practices/>)

Our unified education program combines special and general education coursework to prepare future teachers to work with all students who enter their classrooms. Whether in an inclusive general education classroom or as a Special Education teacher who provides specialized instruction, our program prepares you to be a high-quality beginning teacher. Students who graduate from this program earn two teaching licenses: a PK-12 cross-categorical special education teaching license, and a 4K-9 elementary middle school license.

Graduates of our program are employed in a variety of roles in addition to service as classroom teachers. Our graduates may choose to work as house parents, home trainers, or directors of service agencies. Some graduates choose to continue their study in educational leadership or administration. Others will engage in research, develop curricular and instructional materials, or lead in-service teacher training.

Requirements for Admission to Education Program

Admission to an Education Program

Formal application to an Education Program must be made by October 1 for spring admission or March 1 for fall admission. To submit an application to an Education Program, students must satisfy the requirements listed below:

- Approval by the appropriate department in the College of Health and Human Sciences.
- Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog.
- Earned a minimum of 30 credits.
- Earned a minimum total GPA of 2.5 or a minimum resident GPA of 2.5.
- Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Communication & Literacy-Writing with a C or better.
- Completed the Core General Education Requirement (CGER) for Mathematics & Quantitative Reasoning with a C or better.
- Completed SEIP 208 or ES 212 with a C or better.

Admission is competitive; thus, meeting the minimum requirements does not assure admission to an Education Program. Students who are not admitted may reapply during a later application period.

Admission to the Professional Education Semester

The "Professional Education Semester" is the semester in which a student is enrolled in student teaching or a student teaching internship. The first step in the process is submitting the Notice of Intent to Student Teach. The Notice of Intent to Student Teach is due two semesters before the start of the Professional Education Semester. Failure to file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach by the specified deadline may result in a delay of the Professional Education Semester.

The second step in the process occurs the semester before the start of the Professional Education Semester. Students must satisfy the requirements listed below to apply for the Professional Education Semester:

- Admitted to the appropriate Education Program.
- Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog.
- Earned a minimum of 90 credits prior to the start of the Professional Education Semester.
- Earned a minimum total GPA of 2.75 or a minimum resident GPA of 2.75.
- Completed the Human Relations Fieldwork requirement.
- Evidence of freedom from Tuberculosis via test conducted by Student Health Services.
- Completed the required criminal background check.

The criteria listed above must be met by March 1 for Fall placements, by October 1 for Spring placements, and by February 1 for Summer placements.

No transfer or special student can enter the Professional Education Semester until after a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Eau Claire. Senior transfer students enrolling in September must file an application for admission to the professional semester by December 1 for the following fall.

Requirements for Admission to Professional Education Semester (Student Teaching or Internship)

Admission to the Professional Education Semester

The "Professional Education Semester" is defined as the semester in which a student is enrolled in the field experience of student teaching or internship.

Filing Notice of Intent to Student Teach Applications: Information concerning the Notice of Intent to Student Teach will be advertised widely and posted across campus each semester with an associated due date. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the fall semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the fall. Students who plan to enter the Professional Education Semester during the spring semester of the next academic year must file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach with the Teacher Education Program office in the spring.

Students are encouraged to submit their Notice of Intent to Student Teach by the announced due date. Considerable time is required to process each notice—that is, to determine eligibility, to make arrangements with schools for an appropriate field experience assignment, and to allow for introductions, orientations, and, in some cases, interviews. Students who file on time will benefit by the careful consideration that can be given to their requests; the later a notice is received, the fewer the placement assignments and choices still available will be. Failure to file a Notice of Intent to Student Teach on time may result in a delay of the Professional Education Semester.

Transfer and Special Students: No transfer or special student can enter the Professional Education Semester until after a full semester of residence and after earning a minimum of 15 credits at UW-Eau Claire. Senior transfer students enrolling in September must file an application for admission to the professional semester by December 1 for the following fall.

Criteria for Admission:

- Admitted to the appropriate Education Program.

2. Good academic standing, as defined in the catalog.
3. A minimum of 90 earned credits prior to start of Professional Education Semester.
4. Minimum total GPA of 2.75 or minimum resident GPA of 2.75.
5. Completion of the 30-hour Human Relations Fieldwork requirement.
6. Evidence of freedom from Tuberculosis via test conducted by Student Health Services.
7. Completion of required criminal background check.

For placements that start in the Fall semester, criteria for admission must be met by March 1 of the prior semester. For placements that start in the Spring semester, criteria for admission must be met by October 1 of the prior semester.

For placements that start in the summer session, criteria for admission must be met by February 1 of the prior semester.

Licensure Requirements

Licensure to Teach

College of Health and Human Sciences graduates who desire to teach in Wisconsin, will apply for licensure using the WI Department of Public Instruction's (DPI) ELO (Electronic Licensing Online) by following all steps listed on the site including fingerprinting if applicable.

Upon completion of all program requirements and WI DPI teaching requirements, information will be forwarded to DPI verifying program completion, the completion of all required tests, and information on all certifications the teaching candidates are eligible for with licensure. Candidates will then apply for their Initial License.

It is recommended that graduates seeking licensure to teach in states other than Wisconsin request application forms and instructions from the state in which licensure is desired. Early inquiry is suggested as the certification requirements vary by state. In most cases, an official transcript of credits must accompany the completed application form; additional tests or coursework may be required. In general, candidates may be able to obtain licenses in other states; however, these licenses may be issued with stipulations. It is the student's responsibility to understand the licensing requirements of other states. UW-Eau Claire programs are designed to meet the requirements in Wisconsin only.

Criteria for Recommendation for Licensure:

1. Completion of a baccalaureate degree.
2. Completion of an approved education major, minor, and/or certificate.
3. 2.75 or higher GPA in the major, minor, and/or certificate (if certifiable). All college level courses, except student teaching or internship are included when determining GPA for licensure.
4. Completion of student teaching or internship courses with an S.
5. Content area proficiency as demonstrated by earning a minimum 3.0 GPA in content courses OR via obtaining a passing score on the appropriate Praxis II. Candidates for licensure in Languages must obtain a passing score on the ACTFL written portion (WPT) and must pass the OPI/OPIc within three years prior to the start of student teaching or internship. All candidates seeking licensure must also earn a passing score on the FORT.

Special Education, Unified Special Education K-12 & Elementary/Middle, Comprehensive Major (B.S.)

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course. Department Website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-education-human-sciences/departments-programs/communication-sciences-disorders/>)

Communication is one of the most important human attributes. Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences (which includes Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology) is a profession devoted to increasing our knowledge of human communication and helping people with communication, cognitive, swallowing, and/or hearing challenges.

The first step toward a career in this field is earning an undergraduate degree with a comprehensive major in Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences. The undergraduate degree program includes a strong core education component and is interdisciplinary in nature. A master's degree is required in order to obtain employment as a licensed speech-language pathologist. The Master of Science (M.S.) program in speech-language pathology, residential and distance education, at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire is accredited by the Council on Academic Accreditation in Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association, 2200 Research Boulevard, #310, Rockville, MD 20850, 800-498-2071 or 301-296-5700. Our graduate students are also prepared for licensure by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI). More information about our graduate program is available on our S (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-education-human-sciences/departments-programs/communication-sciences-disorders/>)peech, Language, and Hearing Sciences website. Applicability of Credits Toward Graduation

Junior College or Two-Year College Credits. A maximum of 72 semester credits earned in a junior college or two-year college will be accepted as degree credits at UW-Eau Claire.

Extension Credits. Credits earned in credit outreach courses offered by UW-Eau Claire are treated as resident credits. Credits earned in extension courses offered by other units of the Universities of Wisconsin System are treated as transfer credits. All other (non-UW) extension and correspondence credits are normally limited to one-fourth of the total required for graduation from any curriculum.

WTCS Credits. A maximum of 72 semester credits earned in college parallel programs at Madison Area Technical College, Milwaukee Area Technical College, Nicolet Area Technical College, or Chippewa Valley Technical College may be accepted as degree credits at UW-Eau Claire. A set number of general education courses will be accepted from other technical schools. Occupational and technical courses may also be considered for transfer if the quality and content of the course work from the technical college is judged to be comparable to course work at UW-Eau Claire. Refer to the Transfer Credit Wizard (https://www.uwec.sis.wisconsin.edu/psp/eauprd-tb/EMPLOYEE/SA/c/EAU_SS_CUSTOM.EAU_TRNCRDWZ.GBL) or contact the UW-Eau Claire Admissions Office for information about the current transfer policy.

USAFI Credit. UW-Eau Claire will accept up to 32 semester credits for work done through the United States Armed Forces Institute, under the provision for non-UW correspondence credit (see Extension Credits above).

Activity Credit (band, chorus, drama, KINS 100-184 courses) Students may count toward graduation no more than one credit of KINS 110-184 courses. Students may count toward graduation no more than four credits earned in any single activity course and no more than 12 credits resulting from any combination of activity courses (excluding KINS 110-184 courses).

Other Restricted Credits. For other University restrictions, see the following: Cooperative Education; Credit by Examination; Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Registration; Transfer of Credits. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR HIGH IMPACT PRACTICES (HIPs)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire encourages all students to participate in High Impact Practices. The following information identifies any specific recommendations that faculty in this major have concerning which HIPs might be most beneficial to students, and any recommendations about when those HIPs best fit into the degree plan. Students should also consult their faculty advisor for information on HIPs. There are many additional high impact opportunities available. Talk to your academic advisor for more information about incorporating HIPs like Study Abroad (<https://studyabroad.apps.uwec.edu/>), Intercultural Immersion (<https://www.uwec.edu/immersion/>), Internships, (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-business>) and/or Student/Faculty Collaborative Research (<https://www.uwec.edu/offices-services/office-research-and-sponsored-programs/getting-involved-student-faculty-research>) into your time at UW-Eau Claire.

Core General Education Requirements (CGER)

- Students must still complete 36 credits across 10 courses, with any remaining credits or courses eligible to be taken from any CGER category.

College of Nursing

Kristen Abbott-Anderson, Dean and Educational Administrator (Nursing 103)
Debra Jansen, Associate Dean (Nursing 103)

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire College of Nursing educates nurses at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels. We offer a traditional pre-licensure (TBSN) program for earning a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. Additionally, we offer a BSN Completion program for registered nurses with associate degrees or diplomas in nursing interested in earning a BSN degree. At the graduate level we offer the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree and the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree.

Mission Statement of the College of Nursing

The College of Nursing advances the discipline through excellence in education, research, practice, and service. Guided by our core values, we foster a holistic environment that develops competent and compassionate nurses prepared to lead, promote health, and improve health outcomes across populations and the lifespan.

Department:

Nursing

Accreditation

The nursing programs are approved by the Wisconsin State Board of Nursing. The baccalaureate degree program in nursing, master's degree program in nursing, and the Doctor of Nursing Practice program at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE), 655 K Street NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20001, (202) 887-6791, through December 31, 2031.

Baccalaureate Program

The nursing programs are oriented toward the belief that a broad general education is an essential foundation for the preparation of professionals. Through the biological and social sciences, the humanities, and the nursing science courses, the concepts of humanity, health, environment, and nursing are interwoven in a curriculum that clinically addresses nursing across the lifespan of health-care recipients.

Program/Student Learning Outcomes

Students graduating from UW-Eau Claire with the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree demonstrate accomplishment of the AACN Essentials* through:

1. Integrates nursing knowledge with core general education foundations and knowledge from other disciplines.
2. Provides holistic, compassionate, coordinated, just, respectful, and developmentally appropriate nursing care that is client-focused and evidence-based.
3. Promotes population health through collaboration, advocacy, and implementation of policies that improve health, health equity, and crisis preparedness.
4. Understands the role of scholarship in nursing practice and uses evidence to improve health and healthcare.
5. Applies principles of safety, risk management, and quality improvement in nursing practice.
6. Intentionally collaborates with care team members including patients, families, communities, stakeholders, and other professions.
7. Coordinates resources across complex healthcare systems to provide safe, quality, and equitable care to diverse populations.
8. Uses informatic processes, technologies, and data to guide, manage, and improve the delivery of healthcare.
9. Demonstrates the formation and cultivation of the professional nursing identity and ethical conduct.
10. Participates in activities that foster personal health and well-being, career-long learning, professional resilience, and the development of nursing expertise and leadership attributes.

The Essentials: Core Competencies for Professional Nursing Education, AACN 2021*

Costs, Transportation, and Computer Laptop Access

Nursing is a professional discipline, and students enrolled in the nursing program must anticipate some additional costs that are directly related to the nursing program. These include, for example, nursing differential tuition, uniforms, nursing textbooks, health requirements, personal health insurance, background checks, application and course fees, some clinical equipment (e.g., stethoscope, skills laboratory supplies), and transportation associated with clinical experiences. Students must have means of transportation to and from clinical sites throughout the program, especially since clinical experiences may occur individually and outside of Eau Claire and standard Monday through Friday times, e.g., experiences may occur on weekend, evening, or night shifts, and be in Eau Claire, Marshfield, Superior, Duluth, St. Paul, etc. Carpooling is not an option for many clinicals. Note that textbook costs can be high, particularly in the early nursing courses; however, many of the books continue to be utilized in subsequent semesters. Additionally, admitted students should have wireless laptop access (with webcam and microphone, not a Chromebook, tablet, iPad, or Surface Pro due to software compatibility issues—see (<https://www.uwec.edu/nursing-department/nursing-laptop-requirements>) Laptop Requirements (<https://www.uwec.edu/nursing-department/nursing-laptop-requirements>)).

Financial Assistance

Nursing students applying for financial assistance will be considered by the Financial Aid Office on the same basis as other university students. Application forms for financial assistance are available from Blugold Central. Information regarding scholarships available to students after admission to the nursing program is available on the College of Nursing (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-nursing-health-sciences/departments-> programs/nursing/explore-opportunities/scholarships/)website and on the university's scholarship page.

Clinical Experiences

Various health and social agencies and institutions are utilized for student learning experiences. Experiences are provided through facilities such as hospitals, ambulatory care clinics and centers, schools, nursing homes, public health agencies, child day-care centers, and other community health agencies. Students are responsible for transportation to and from clinical experiences. Some clinical experiences are in other communities and may occur individually and outside of standard Monday through Friday times, e.g., experiences may occur on weekend, evening, or night shifts. Students are expected to abide by clinical agency policies, including, for instance, smoking/vaping/tobacco use policies, HIPPA requirements, etc.

Organizations and Activities

Membership in the National Student Nurses' Association and the Wisconsin Student Nurses' Association is achieved through joining the Eau Claire Student Nurses' Association. The organization meets regularly to promote the aims of nursing education and provide students experience with respect to the issues and operations of the professional nursing organizations.

UW-Eau Claire students with a faculty advisor comprise the Northwestern Wisconsin Chapter of the American Association for Men in Nursing. The chapter is part of the larger American Association for Men in Nursing (AAMN) organization and is open to all genders.

Sigma Theta Tau International (now referred to as Sigma) is the Nursing Honor Society. Membership in the local Delta Phi Chapter is by invitation to juniors, seniors, graduate students, and members of the community who demonstrate outstanding academic, scholarship, and leadership potential.

Study Abroad Program

Summer study abroad health profession options in Puebla, Mexico and Valladolid, Spain may be especially appealing to students in nursing and other majors with an interest in health care. Summer Latin American culture and Spanish language experiences also may be available in Costa Rica.

Academic Regulations

Students who are enrolled in nursing courses are expected to arrange for make-up of all class and laboratory work missed, regardless of the reason for the absence. If the absence is anticipated, arrangements for make-up should be made prior to the absence. It may not be possible for faculty to provide make-up opportunities for all experiences. Students who have missed an excessive portion of the course may be advised to withdraw. Please also refer to the College Admission Requirements and the Nursing Overview for additional academic regulations.

Incompletes and Full-time Nursing Course Load Expectations

A grade of "incomplete" is allowed only when illness or other extenuating circumstances beyond the student's control have interfered with completion of the course and the plan for completion is a clearly viable alternative for meeting the course objectives. Students may not progress to courses that have a prerequisite course in which a mark of "incomplete" has been received. For the traditional undergraduate nursing (TBSN) program, students are not allowed to progress further in the nursing program until the course with the incomplete grade is successfully completed. Students newly admitted to the TBSN program must be able to start the sophomore nursing courses with their nursing admission cohort; otherwise, they may need to reapply to the program. The nursing courses for each term of the traditional program have been designed to be taken together. Therefore, students in the traditional program are expected to be enrolled full-time in the required nursing courses and are not to be withdrawing from individual courses.

Unsatisfactory Grades in Nursing Courses (Grade of less than C)

Any of the following may result in an unsatisfactory grade in a nursing course:

- Clearly unsatisfactory achievement in either the theoretical or the practicum component of a nursing course.
- Failure to meet clinical behavior expectations.
- Failure to meet minimum exam average requirements.
- Failure to submit course assignments or projects.
- Failure to meet make-up requirements in relation to course work missed.
- Failure to appear for the final examination, unless prevented by illness or other emergency from notifying the faculty and taking the examination at the scheduled time.
- Offenses as defined by the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents in chapter UWS 17 and published on the Dean of Students website.
- Failure to comply with attendance policy as stated in writing by the instructor.

Nursing Student Progression

1. Students must receive a satisfactory clinical evaluation in each of the critical areas on a summative clinical evaluation of a course. These areas are:
 - a. Effective noticing (focused observation, recognizing deviations from expected patterns, and information seeking);
 - b. effective interpreting (prioritizing data and making sense of data);
 - c. effective responding (calm, confident manner, clear communication, well-planned intervention/flexibility, and being safe and skillful);
 - d. effective reflecting (evaluation/self-analysis and commitment to improvement);
 - e. respectful and professional behavior;
 - f. professional attire;
 - g. professional values; and
 - h. accountability and responsibility for own professional behavior.
2. If a student demonstrates deficiencies that the instructor determines are clearly unsafe or unprofessional behaviors, the student will be immediately removed from the clinical situation.
3. Allowing students to do remedial work in a required nursing course is a course faculty decision.
4. Remedial work not completed before the end of a semester will result in the student receiving an incomplete or a failing grade.
5. A student may repeat only two required nursing courses. Only one of these repeated courses may be a clinical course. Failure in or withdrawal from a third nursing course, or a second clinical course, will result in dismissal from the program.
6. A second instance of probation within the college will result in termination from the program.
7. When a faculty member has determined that a student has failed a clinical component of a course at any point during the semester, a course grade of F will be assigned and the student cannot withdraw from the course.
8. Students must earn a grade of C or better in required nursing and required non-nursing courses (e.g., biology, chemistry, stats, human development).

Termination from Program

A student may be terminated from the nursing program for any of the following reasons:

- Failure to regain good standing.
- A second instance of probation within the college.
- Failure to demonstrate the potential for consistently safe and responsible nursing practice.
- Likelihood that a student's condition or prior experience will adversely affect the student, other persons, the university, an agency or unit used for clinical practice, or the patients or clients served.
- Failure in or withdrawal from a third nursing course or a second clinical course.
- Failure to satisfactorily appeal by the stated due date when notified of not meeting academic standards.

A student who has been notified of termination may appeal for reinstatement. Termination from the program constitutes dismissal from the nursing program only. A student's status within the university is not affected provided the university standards for good standing are met. Following termination from an undergraduate nursing program, reapplications will not be accepted.

Dean's List

At the end of each semester the University recognizes excellence in scholastic achievement by publishing the Dean's List. Admitted undergraduate students are eligible if they meet the following criteria for the semester:

- earn a minimum of 12 credits.
- be in good academic standing.
- earn a minimum semester GPA of 3.70.
- have no courses with the following grades: Incomplete, Withdrawal, Audit, or Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (except in courses that are offered only on the S/U grading system in which a grade of S has been earned).
- have no courses below the 100 level.
- have no repeats.
- not enrolled in a professional education semester course: ES 440, ES 441, ES 471; SEIP 470, SEIP 472, SEIP 475.

Dean's List students will receive notification and congratulations from the Dean.

Credit by Examination Policy

Selected undergraduate nursing courses are available to eligible students for credit by examination. Credit for a maximum of two clinical nursing courses may be earned by examination. No more than 20 credits in nursing may be earned through credit by examination. Prerequisite courses must be completed prior to pursuing credit by examination. Each clinical nursing course examination will include instructor observation of student clinical performance, along with other examinations, check-offs, or portfolio reviews, as needed. Objective and/or essay components of the examination must be completed successfully before assignment, clinical examination, and/or portfolio evaluation are attempted.

Students interested in receiving credit by examination for nursing courses should see the nursing department chair for more information.

Certificates, Minors, Second Majors

The nursing major is comprehensive; therefore minors or certificates are not required. Nevertheless, interested students may select a certificate, minor, or second major in a non-nursing field. The Spanish for Health Professions minor (Code 320-408) is designed for students in nursing or other health-care related professions who desire a proficiency in the Spanish language. (See Department of Languages for program requirements.) The Public Health minor (Code 488-401) also is of interest to many students (See Public Health and Environmental Studies Department.) Completion of a certificate, minor, or second major will require credits beyond the minimum necessary for graduation from the university. Scheduling difficulties may be encountered when attempting to complete a certificate, minor, or second major. See the major/minor concentration policies in the section on University Graduation Requirements. Students who select a minor or second major must obtain an academic advisor in that area.

Departmental Honors in Nursing Program (on hold)

The purpose of the Departmental Honors in Nursing Program is to provide an opportunity for students to discover nursing knowledge in a specific topic area using advanced scholarship abilities beyond the student learning outcomes of the baccalaureate nursing program. The program, usually on hold, is offered as resources allow. Nursing Honors students will:

1. Demonstrate professional motivation and commitment to the contribution of nursing knowledge by participating in a scholarly project that engages the student in any of the following formats: research, evidence-based practice, service project with a health care/community partner, and/or leadership.
2. Demonstrate some or all of the following scholarly behaviors with abundant depth and breadth through the scholarly project:
 - a. Formation of a focused practice/academic/management problem or need
 - b. Retrieval, appraisal, analysis, and synthesis of scholarly literature/evidence
 - c. Collaborative design of a scholarly project to meet the identified need
 - d. Implementation of the scholarly project
 - e. Dissemination of the results of the scholarly project in a professional format (oral or poster presentation, manuscript, or other).
3. Cultivate professional relationship(s) with Nursing Honors Advisor and/or other significant professional partners.

Eligibility. Nursing students with resident and total GPAs of 3.50 or higher may be admitted.

Application. A written application shall be approved by the Dean of the College of Nursing and the Nursing Honors Committee.

Requirements for Completion. See Blugold Insider/University intranet or Department Chair for the most up-to-date requirements, guidelines, and availability of the program.

Admission

All students interested in nursing must first apply for admission to the university following the regular university admission procedures and are assigned an academic adviser by the university. Application for admission to the nursing program is a subsequent step and depends upon meeting specific admission requirements.

The College of Nursing welcomes the opportunity to give guidance in program planning to students in high school who have chosen nursing or are considering it as a career. These students are encouraged to include courses in high school which provide the best foundation for study at the university and in the major field. Strong preparation in the sciences, particularly biology and chemistry, is needed, as students are expected to be able to master depth and detail in the university science courses. Recommended courses for high school are:

English	4 units
Chemistry	1-2 units

Physics	1 units
Biology	1-2 units
Foreign Language ¹	2 units
Algebra	2 units
Geometry	1 units
History	1-2 units
Social Studies	3 units
Speech	1 units

¹ Two units of one language, e.g., French, German, Spanish.

Admission to the Traditional Undergraduate Pre-licensure Nursing Program

Formal application to the traditional undergraduate pre-licensure nursing (TBSN) program must be made. A student must first be admitted to UW-Eau Claire as a pre-nursing student and be in good standing before applying to the nursing program. Students are encouraged to apply to the nursing program during the semester in which 30 credits will be completed. The deadlines for filing applications to the College of Nursing TBSN program are May 1 and December 1.

In order to be considered for admission to the nursing program, one must have (also see notes):

1. been accepted as a pre-nursing student in the University in good standing.
2. completed at least 30 semester credits, not including courses for nursing assistant certification, with a total cumulative GPA of at least 3.00.
3. completed at least two of the four required natural science courses, with at least one of which being an anatomy and physiology laboratory course, with a GPA of at least 2.50.
4. earned a grade of C or above in all courses required for nursing.
5. completed and submitted all application materials including but not limited to quality essay and nonrefundable application fee(s).
6. completed all clinical and health record, CPR certification, background check, and other related requirements upon admission to the program.

Notes: Following admission to the Nursing Program, evidence of certification as a Nursing Assistant must be submitted prior to registration for sophomore nursing courses. Testing to become a Certified Nursing Assistant requires having a valid social security number. Remedial coursework (e.g., MATH 20) does not count towards the 30 required credits. See Academic Standards.

Other data utilized by the Admissions Committee are derived from a variety of sources including but not limited to applications for admission to the University and the nursing program, high school transcript showing rank in class, previous collegiate records, including prior nursing courses, and standardized tests such as ACT or SAT. International, non-native speakers of English applying to an undergraduate nursing program must have a TOEFL score as follows: TOEFL Written >560 (or IELTS score of 6.5); or TOEFL (CBT) >220; or TOEFL (iBT) >83; or TOEFL (iBT) ≥4.5. A grade of C or above must be earned in all courses (nursing and non-nursing) required for the major.

The College may find it necessary to deny admission to a qualified applicant because of enrollment limits in the professional program. Depending on the number of qualified applicants, the GPA to be competitive for admission may be above the required 3.00 minimum cumulative GPA.

Students newly admitted to the TBSN program must be able to start the nursing courses with their admission cohort; not meeting the requirements to begin the nursing courses may be considered a progression issue. They may be asked to reapply to the nursing program if wishing to delay the start of the sophomore nursing courses.

The Nurse Scholars Program provides conditional admission to the nursing program for those high achieving pre-nursing students who have been invited to enter the Nurse Scholars and University Honors programs (see University Honors) at the time of admission to the University. Students eligible for the Nurse Scholars Program are identified at the time of admission to the University and must accept the offer when invited. Students switching majors from or to nursing are not eligible. The Nursing Dean's office contacts the students who are eligible for the program. Eligibility is determined by identified major, high school class rank, ACT score, and admission to University Honors. To maintain Nurse Scholar eligibility for admission to the nursing program, the pre-nursing student must continue to major in nursing (cannot switch majors) and meet specific UW-Eau Claire credit, GPA, and Honors course criteria, as well as additional admission requirements as applicable to all pre-nursing students. Further information is available from the Associate Dean for the college. Pre-nursing students participating in University Honors who believe they mistakenly may not have received a Nurse Scholar invitation must contact the Associate Dean no later than mid-August, prior to starting courses at UW-Eau Claire.

Admission to the BSN Completion Program

The BSN Completion Program is for practicing registered nurses with an associate degree or diploma in nursing from an accredited nursing program who wish to obtain a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. Formal application to the BSN Completion Program must be made in the semester prior to enrolling in nursing courses.

To be considered for admission to the BSN Completion Program, students must have (also see notes):

- Graduated with an associate degree in nursing or diploma in nursing from a nationally accredited nursing program.
- A current unencumbered Wisconsin or Minnesota RN license.
- A minimum overall cumulative GPA of 2.50.
- Been admitted to UW-Eau Claire in good standing (resident GPA of at least 2.50).
- Completed and submitted all application materials (including but not limited to: application, nonrefundable application fee(s), official transcript from associate degree or diploma program, evidence of Wisconsin or Minnesota RN licensure).

Notes: Examples of national accreditation for nursing programs include NLN, NLNAC, ACEN, and CNEA. If completed courses at UWEC, resident GPA must be at least 2.50 or better (a requirement to be in good standing in nursing). Wisconsin or Minnesota RN licensure required for full admission and must be maintained throughout the program. Appropriate RN licensure required for clinical placement. A grade of C or above must be earned in all courses (nursing and non-nursing) required for the major.

Health/Clinical Requirements

Admitted students must present evidence of having met current health requirements, such as immunity against diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, varicella, rubella (measles), mumps, rubella, and hepatitis B, annual influenza vaccination, and tuberculin skin testing (evidence of two-step TB skin test is required if the student has never been tested for TB). Please refer to the specific health requirement information delineated on the College (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-nursing-health-sciences/departments-programs/nursing/about/current-students/>) website. Additional vaccinations and testing including laboratory titers and medical follow-up may be required.

To secure admission acceptance, all health requirements, evidence of CPR certification, background check information, etc. must be submitted and approved, along with the appropriate fee(s).

Admitted students must maintain their immune status against infectious diseases. Tuberculin skin tests are offered at the Student Health Service. Any student whose skin test converts from negative to positive while enrolled in the program must have a chest X-ray and a medical evaluation, and provide a statement of the clinician's findings and recommendations. Annual interferon-gamma release assays (IGRAs) including QFT-Gold and T-Spot results may be acceptable in lieu of TB skin test results. Students are not permitted to participate in clinical course work and experiences unless all immunizations, TB tests, CPR certification, background checks, and other health or clinical requirements are current and cleared/approved. Clinical facilities may have additional requirements, such as COVID-19 vaccinations, which must be met. Non-immune status may affect clinical placement and ability to progress or complete the program. BSN Completion program and graduate students must have current and appropriate RN licensure for admission and for clinical placement and participation; the RN licensure must be maintained throughout the duration of the program, including Wisconsin or Minnesota RN licensure for BSN Completion students and Wisconsin RN licensure for graduate students.

All expenses associated with RN licensure, health surveillance, and care are borne by the student unless specifically indicated otherwise. Students are not covered by health or accident insurance by UW-Eau Claire, the College, the practicum facility, or the practicum institution. In addition, workers' compensation insurance does not cover students while engaged in clinical practice. If a student suffers a needle stick or is injured while in practicum, they are personally responsible to pay for all medical bills and therefore will need personal health insurance.

Due to occupational exposure to blood or other potentially infectious materials, health care workers are at risk of acquiring Hepatitis B Virus infection and other serious infections. Students are considered to be at increased risk for needle-stick injuries. Such accidents can also be costly (e.g., student and patient testing, ER injury management, chemoprophylaxis, and potential illness care). The student, not the College, University, or clinical agency, is responsible for these expenses should an accidental exposure occur during a clinical experience.

Some clinical sites require students to show proof of health insurance; therefore, students are required to maintain health insurance for the duration of their education. Students must be able to provide proof of personal health insurance coverage if requested. Students are under a continuing obligation to notify the dean's office of the college of any lapse in personal health insurance coverage.

Students in need of accommodations are to work with the Services for Students with Disabilities Office to provide documentation and are to contact the appropriate course faculty as soon as possible, preferably prior to the start of each term.

CPR Certification

All applicants must hold Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) Certification at the Basic Life Support for Healthcare Providers (American Red Cross) or Basic Life Support (BLS) Provider (American Heart Association) level. Evidence of CPR certification must be submitted at the time of admission. Admitted students must keep their certification current.

Student Background Check Requirements

Based on Wisconsin State law, clinical agencies must have completed background checks for all students. Consequently, the College of Nursing requires students admitted to the nursing programs to complete background check materials which are submitted by the students to DISA CastleBranch (<https://mycb2.castlebranch.com/.html>).

DISA CastleBranch (<https://mycb2.castlebranch.com/.html>) conducts Wisconsin and out of state criminal record and healthcare fraud and abuse searches, and includes the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) Background Information Disclosure (BID), a release for a Wisconsin Department of Justice Criminal Background Check. More information regarding the Wisconsin Caregiver Law can be obtained from DHS's Web site (<https://www.dhs.wisconsin.gov/>). Students participating in clinicals in Minnesota may be required to complete further background checks (with associated fees). Additional, including out of state and international background checks (with associated fees) may be required by the college and by the clinical agencies. Clinical agencies may conduct further background checks. In addition to providing student background check findings, some clinical agencies require the College to submit photo images of students for identification and safety surveillance purposes.

Final admission status to the nursing program is contingent upon return of criminal background check(s) with no findings that would prevent participation in the program. Because of background check or BID findings, clinical agencies may refuse placement of students. This may prevent progression in or completion of the program. The findings also may affect future licensure, licensure good standing, and employment. A criminal history is not an automatic bar to clinical agency placement, program progression, licensure/certification, and/or future employment. Admitted students are under a continuing obligation to notify the Dean's Office at the College of Nursing of any new or pending charges or violations of federal, state, and local laws or the campus student conduct code, or RN licensure encumbrances or status changes that occur at any future date and during their tenure as College of Nursing students. Failure to notify the college may result in loss of good academic standing in the college and an inability to progress in the program.

Transfer Students

Any student anticipating transfer to the university for the nursing degree is urged to consult the university Admissions Office as early as possible for information about GPA and course requirements for admission and for the degree requirements (see specific nursing program admission requirements). Official review of the student's academic record is made by the University Office of Admissions.

Applicants to the nursing program who have completed nursing courses in an accredited baccalaureate nursing program at another college or university setting will be considered on an individual basis, but will need to complete the nursing application process. Acceptance will be determined by overall quality of academic record and application and potential for success, space availability, and the age and articulation of courses with those offered by the College of Nursing. Nursing courses tend not to transfer as equivalents. Transfer students may consider credit by examination. If admission is granted, the program would be planned by the College as considered best for the student and according to the current curriculum.

Readmission to Nursing Program

Students who withdraw from the program and wish to return for completion must send a letter to the Associate Dean requesting readmission to the nursing program at least three months in advance of the desired readmission date. Applicants must meet the current admission requirements of the nursing program. Students likely may be asked to reapply to the program, especially if significant time has passed or if curricular changes or other circumstances have occurred.

Readmission consideration will be given to the length of absence, the reasons for withdrawal, the student's ability to achieve and academic standing, progress made to rectify any previous concerns or difficulties, and the availability of spaces in the clinical courses in which the student would enroll. If readmission is granted, the remaining program will be planned by the college as considered best for the student and according to the current curriculum.

Following termination from an undergraduate nursing program, reapplications will not be accepted. See termination and academic standards policies in catalog and nursing student handbooks.

College Graduation Requirements

Degree Requirements

To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing, the candidate must present at least 120 semester credits with a total and resident GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy. No course required for the degree in nursing may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis. Audit enrollment is not allowed.

Nursing

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire College of Nursing Department of Nursing educates nurses at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels. We offer a traditional pre-licensure undergraduate (TBSN) program for earning a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. Additionally, we have a BSN Completion program for registered nurses with associate degrees or diplomas in nursing interested in earning a BSN degree. At the graduate level we offer the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) degree and the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree.

Mission Statement of the Department of Nursing

The purpose of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire Department of Nursing is to provide a scholarly environment in which faculty and students gain and extend knowledge of health, health care, and the practice of professional nursing. The Department of Nursing is dedicated to accomplishing this mission using traditional, as well as technology-based instructional strategies and a variety of innovative and diverse teaching methods.

The Nursing Department shares the mission of the university and the college by building upon the foundational values of transformative liberal education, inclusivity, and educational excellence.

The select mission of the Nursing Department is to:

1. Educate nurses to lead within diverse, complex environments
2. Promote health and the public good through ethical leadership, collaboration, and practice
3. Contribute to knowledge development for health and nursing
4. Serve the broader missions of the college and university

Academic Standards

The following scholastic standards must be maintained by students after admission to the nursing program if they are to be considered in good standing:

1. Achieve a semester GPA of at least 2.25;
2. Maintain a resident GPA of at least 2.50;
3. Achieve a grade of at least C in each specific course required by nursing.

Note that a total and resident GPA of at least 2.50 is needed to graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. If a student fails to meet any of the academic standards, the student is placed on probation in the College of Nursing and must successfully appeal to continue in the program. Appeal success is not guaranteed. The student who is placed on probation in the college will be officially notified of the change in academic standing and will be required to negotiate, with the associate dean of the college, a contract designed for regaining good standing. Failure to submit an appeal to continue in the nursing program by the designated due date assumes the student no longer wishes to continue in the nursing program and constitutes withdrawal from the nursing program. Should a grade of less than C in a specific course required by nursing, including non-nursing courses, be a factor in the probationary status, the student must repeat that course before earning credit for any course for which the repeated course is a prerequisite. For the traditional undergraduate nursing program, students are not allowed to progress further in the nursing program until the course with the less than satisfactory grade is successfully completed. No more than one instance of probation within the nursing programs is allowed. Please also refer to the college academic regulations listed in the College Overview and to the nursing student handbooks available in Blugold Insider.

Majors

The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire College of Nursing educates nurses at the baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral levels. We offer various options for earning a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree.

Following admission to UW-Eau Claire, students interested in the traditional pre-licensure undergraduate (TBSN) program apply through the college to the Eau Claire campus. Please see the admission requirements. The traditional program is full-time, with 12 credits of required nursing courses taken concurrently each term, beginning with the second semester sophomore nursing courses. Students are expected to be enrolled full-time in the required nursing courses while completing the 60 nursing credits.

- Comprehensive Major: Nursing, Eau Claire Program - B.S.N.

We offer a BSN Completion program for registered nurses with associate degrees or diplomas in nursing interested in earning a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree. The BSN Completion Program, also referred to as the Collaborative Nursing Program (CNP)/BSN@Home Program, is a joint effort of the seven nursing programs in the Universities of Wisconsin (UW-Eau Claire, UW-Green Bay, UW-Madison, UW-Milwaukee, UW-Oshkosh, UW-Stevens Point, and UW-Superior). Students participating in the program select one of the seven universities as their "home" institution and must complete the degree requirements of their home institution. Core nursing courses of the BSN Completion Program are offered online by the nursing programs. Please see the admission requirements.

- Comprehensive Major: Nursing, B.S.N Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Degree) - B.S.N.
- Comprehensive Major: Nursing, WTCS Associate Degree in Nursing B.S.N. Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Degree) - B.S.N.

Minors

A topical minor is composed of 24 semester credits selected by the student to meet the student's own interests and scholarly objectives. The topical minor must include courses from at least two departments, with no more than 12 credits from any one department and no more than 12 credits from Nursing. Courses for the minor may be chosen on the basis of a coherent theme, a definable professional need, or a complementary relation to the student's major. The topical minor is not intended to duplicate any major or minor offered as a regular program.

- Minor: Topical Minor

Master of Science in Nursing (MSN)

The graduate program leading to the Master of Science in Nursing degree is designed to prepare nurses to assume leadership and scholarship roles in professional nursing in the areas of nursing education or nursing administration/leadership & management. Students choose an adult-gerontologic or family population focus and functional role preparation in nursing education or administration/leadership & management. After admission to the program, the student must complete approximately 39-40 graduate credits for the MSN degree. Completion of the program usually requires four semesters and a winterim session. Individuals interested in pursuing the nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist role preparations at UW-Eau Claire need to apply to the post-baccalaureate Doctor of Nursing Practice (BSN-to-DNP) degree option, in keeping with the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN) recommendation to transition advanced practice nursing preparation to the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree level.

More specific information is available in the Graduate Catalog or from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director, College of Nursing.

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)

The College of Nursing offers Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) degree options for individuals pursuing education in advanced practice and professional nursing. The DNP is a clinical doctorate designed to prepare nurses to assume leadership roles in the areas of advanced clinical practice nursing (nurse practitioner or clinical nurse specialist), nursing administration/nurse executive, or nursing education leadership. Both MSN-to-DNP and BSN-to-DNP options are offered. The MSN-to-DNP option includes an advanced clinical practice (for nurse practitioners or clinical nurse specialists), nursing education leadership, or nurse executive emphasis. The BSN-to-DNP option includes adult-gerontologic primary care nurse practitioner (NP), family NP, psychiatric mental health NP, and nurse administrator/nurse executive. More specific information is available online from the college website (<https://www.uwec.edu/academics/college-nursing-health-sciences/>), the graduate catalog, or from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director, College of Nursing.

Major/Degree Requirements

(Code 700-005)

UW-Eau Claire, together with other UW institutions offering nursing programs, developed a collaborative degree completion program for registered nurses. Students naming UW-Eau Claire as their home institution in the BSN Completion Program receive student services from this university. Core General Education Requirements (CGER) can be taken at any institution where equivalent transfer credit can be obtained. Transfer courses must meet the overall UW-Eau Claire core general education requirements if the degree is to be obtained from UW-Eau Claire. The nursing courses in the program are taught online, including the foundational course (CND 310) and the didactic portion of the capstone clinical course (CND 480) (see nursing courses with CND prefix). The nursing major for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree is comprehensive. Students taking a comprehensive major are not required to declare a minor or certificate in another area. However, students who are interested in a minor or certificate are encouraged to discuss options with their advisor. Students must also seek an advisor in the area of the minor.

To qualify for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree, students must complete at least 120 semester credits with a total and resident GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree, including satisfactory completion of statistics and biochemistry.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy: No course required for the degree in nursing may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis. Audit enrollment is not allowed.

R.N./B.S.N./M.S.N. Option

The R.N./B.S.N./M.S.N. option facilitates the progression of qualified Registered Nurse students, enrolled in the BSN Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Program), to progress in pursuing the Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) Program at UW-Eau Claire. This option provides the opportunity for the qualified nurse to earn credits toward the M.S.N. while completing the baccalaureate degree in nursing. This is accomplished by enrolling as a senior undergraduate student in selected graduate courses. Permission must be obtained from the Nursing Graduate Programs Director of the College of Nursing prior to enrollment in this option.

The graduate courses serve as confirming courses for up to nine credits in the undergraduate BSN completion curriculum; a grade of C or better is needed to earn the confirming credits. A grade of B or better must be earned in a graduate course in order to be eligible to register for additional graduate courses.

Students approved for this option may enroll in:

Nursing, Eau Claire Program, Comprehensive Major

The following is a sample degree plan, based on the current catalog. It is based on the 120-credit graduation requirement and assumes no transferred credits, no requirements waived by placement tests, no courses taken in the summer or winter, no repeated courses, and no remedial courses that may be required. This sample degree plan is intended for first-year students entering UW-Eau Claire in the fall semester. Your own degree plan may differ depending on the course of study selected (second major, minor, etc.). UW-Eau Claire cannot guarantee all courses will be offered as shown, but will provide a range of courses that may enable prepared students to fulfill their requirements in a timely period. This sample degree plan is just a guide. Please consult your advisor, your degree audit, and the catalog to create your own degree plan. Note: In order to earn the required minimum of 120 credits for the degree in four years, you should plan to take 15 credits each semester or 30 credits each year.

To earn a degree, students must fulfill all University Graduation Requirements, including the Core General Education Requirements (CGER). CGER course work in the following sample degree plan uses abbreviations such as CGER CL, CGER HA, and CGER NSWL to represent the learning outcomes students will meet via completion of the course.

WTCS Associate Degree in Nursing/May 1996 or later BSN Completion Program (Collaborative Nursing Degree)

UW-Eau Claire, together with other UW institutions offering nursing programs, developed a collaborative degree completion program for registered nurses. Students naming UW-Eau Claire as their home institution in the BSN Completion Program receive student services from this university. Core General Education Requirements (CGER) can be taken at any institution where equivalent transfer credit can be obtained. Transfer courses must meet the overall UW-Eau Claire core general education requirements if the degree is to be obtained from UW-Eau Claire. The nursing courses in the program are taught online, including the foundational course (CND 310) and the didactic portion of the capstone clinical course (CND 480) (see nursing courses with CND prefix). The nursing major for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree is comprehensive. Students taking a comprehensive major are not required to declare a minor or certificate in another area. However, students who are interested in a minor or certificate are encouraged to discuss options with their advisor. Students must also seek an advisor in the area of the minor.

Students in this option are eligible for the benefits of the articulation agreement between Universities of Wisconsin and Wisconsin Technical College System (WTCS) non-college associate degree programs in nursing.

To qualify for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) degree, students must complete at least 120 semester credits with a total and resident GPA of at least 2.50; must meet all university requirements for graduation; and must meet all nursing program requirements for the degree, including satisfactory completion of statistics and biochemistry.

Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory Policy: No course required for the degree in nursing may be taken on a Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory basis. Audit enrollment is not allowed.
